YOUNG LADY KILLED A DOZEN INJURED

Fatal Wreck of Wilmington Train on Seaboard Road Yesterday.

TWO PULLMANS LEFT RAILS

Both Turned Over Half Mile East of Allenton, N. C., With Fearful Results—Conductor Hill Seriously Hurt.

Seaboard Air Line passenger train No. 40, due to arrive here from Charlotte at 12:20 o'clock yesterday afternoon, bringing in addition to the usual day coaches two Pullmans from Atlanta, Birmingham and Montgomery, Ala., with their usual number of week-end visitors for Wrightsville Beach, running three hours and 40 minutes late on account of a previous delay at Polkton, N. C., where some cars of a freight train had been derailed, was wrecked half a mile this side of Allenton and five miles east of Lumberton, N. C., about 3 o'clock yesterday afternoon, both Pullmans having left the rails and turned over, tearing up the track for about 300 feet.

One passenger, Miss Bessie Jones, of Montgomery, Ala., member of a party en route to Wrightsville Beach, was instantly killed, her body being terribly mangled, while 14 others were more or less seriously injured, but none of them fatally. All of the injured reached Wilmington on the train at 8 o'clock last night, after having previously been given medical attention at Bladenboro and by half a dozen physicians who came out to the wreck in automobiles from Lumberton, N. C. The most seriously injured perhaps is Pullman Conductor Joe B. Hill, of this city, who has a badly sprained back and may have suffered internal injuries. There were about 125 passengers, all told, in the day coaches and in the Pullmans, ten of the number being in the chair car from Charlotte and 24 in the Pullman from the South. None of the day coaches left the track and those in the Pullmans were the only ones killed or injured. Miss Jones, whose injuries resulted fatally, was in the sleeper and from the position of the body, appears to have been leaning out of, or attempting to get out of the window as the coach was derailed.

The train left Lumberton at 2:25 for Wilmington and was in charge of Conductor J. Cullen Jones, of this city, and Engineer "Dick" Crosby, of Hamlet, N. C. Conductor Joe Hill was in charge of both Pullmans, the chair car Cinderilla and the sleeper Zeus. Allenton is four miles this side of Lumberton and after making a stop there, the train had just gotten under headway and had probably attained a speed of about 30 miles an hour when Conductor Jones, in the day coach, felt a pull on the train and immediately applied the emergency brakes. The day coaches and engine broke loose from the Pullmans which also parted their couplings and turned over on their sides. Fortunately the track is very level at the point of the wreck and after bumping along for about 300 yards the cars came to a standstill. Both cars fell on the left side of the track and were neither of them badly wrecked. It is thought that Miss Jones who was fatally injured, must have been asleep, and waking from the first jolt of the derailment, attempted to get through one of the windows of the Pullmans. Her body was found tightly jammed in the window and had to be sawed out of the frame of the window. Within a short time Conductor Jones had the train, except the wrecked Pullmans, on its way to the nearest station, Bladenboro, with the injured who were given attention by Dr. Norman, of that place, and Dr. L. B. Evans, of Clarkton, who had been summoned by telephone. Doctors also arrived from Lumberton with many citizens who worked heroically in assisting Conductor Jones and the others who were able to assist from among the passenger list and crew of the train. The remains of Miss Jones were removed as soon as possible from the Pullman and were taken back to Lumberton, where they were prepared for burial by Undertaker W. W. Carlyle and later taken to Seaboard headquarters at Hamlet.

The body was in charge of Drs. W. A. McPhaul and H. T. Pope. Relatives in Montgomery, Ala., were immediately notified by telegraph and a brother, Mr. A. J. Jones, of Montgomery, cashier of the First National Bank, of that city, left Montgomery last night to take charge of the remains at Hamlet.

Miss Jones was a member of a party of friends who had planned to spend the week at the seashore. These included Mr. and Mrs. W. W. Jones, two children and colored maid, Wetumpka, Ala.; and Mrs. J. M. Fitzpatrick, of the same place. She was a distant relative of Mr. and Mrs. Jones and Mrs. Fitzpatrick, about 25 years of age. Other members of the party were slightly injured, as will appear from the list as follows:

PUBLICITY BILL IS ADOPTED

Important Measure for Publicity of Campaign Contributions Passes the House—The Final Action in Congress.

Washington, Aug. 17.—The House today adopted 283 to 27, the conference report on the campaign publicity bill. The report already has been adopted by the Senate, and the measure will go to the President at once. The action of the House was taken in spite of strenuous protest by a few the primary election by a few South-Southern members, who insisted that the primary election feature of the bill was an infringement upon State's rights.

As finally adopted, the bill stands practically as it was amended by the Senate. It requires that all candidates for the Senate or House either in general elections, primaries or nominating conventions shall file statements of their expenses not more than 15 nor less than 10 days before the election or nomination. Expenses of candidates for the Senate are limited to $10,000, and those of candidates for the House to $5,000 and candidates are required to say what positions or honors they have promised in an effort to influence votes. Personal traveling expenses and official fees do not have to be listed.

Representatives Bartlett and Hardwick, of Georgia, and Richardson, of Alabama, led the fight against the bill, declaring that they wanted publicity but could not vote for Federal regulation of primary elections in their States.

Representative Rucker, of Missouri, author of the original bill, and chairman of the committee, insisted that the law would not interfere with regulation of primaries by the States.

HENRY WATTERSON DEFEATED.

Democratic Convention Votes to Extend County Unit System.

Louisville, Ky., Aug. 16.—Delegates to Kentucky's Democratic platform convention last night refused to accept Henry Watterson's advice and adopt the majority report of the resolutions committee, which provided for the extension of the county unit law to all counties of the State. Mr. Watterson moved to amend so as to leave the State's liquor laws as they stand, urging that the county unit was but a preface to prohibition.

The vote of Mr. Watterson's amendment was 514 for and 667 against. Immediately it was lost the majority report was carried unanimously.

Besides the county unit law, which has not been in force in counties with cities of the first four classes, the platform commends the Democratic Congress and the State's Democratic Representatives, and condemns everything Republican. The resolutions contain no endorsement of any national candidate, but declare for popular election of United States Senators, the direct primary and for good roads.

The editor of the Courier-Journal, himself a delegate from this district, in a statement threw down the gauntlet. He referred to opposition to former Governor Beckham when that candidate for Senator defeated former Governor McCreary at a State primary to nominate, and declared the same influences he fought then, now seek to extend county unit law and eventually bring about prohibition.

"But," he said, "the plan to repudiate and humiliate me merely because I am a Democrat, well within his right and his duty as a Democratic journalist, leaves me no alternative than to appeal to you and the party with the facts, and to have my sentence and conviction, if you so decree, executed with your eyes wide open, so that I may know and all men may know that I am dead and damned and buried by competent authority and orderly procedure."

Mr. McCreary' last word was the candidate were unwilling to dictate, but believed "the sentiment of the State is in favor of an extension of the county unit law."

TOGO IS BROKEN DOWN.

Japanese Hero Cancelled His Visit to Atlantic Squadron.

Boston, Mass., Aug. 17.—Admiral Count Togo, the Japanese sea fighter worn out by feasts and receptions broke down physically today and cancelled his proposed visit to the North Atlantic squadron engaged in maneuvers off Provincetown. He complained of a slight attack of indigestion and throughout the day remained in his room, resting.

Plans for tomorrow are dependent entirely on how the admiral feels.

The abandonment today of the visit to the Atlantic fleet was a great disappointment not only to the American officers, but to the admiral, himself, who sent messages of regret to Acting Secretary of the Navy Beekman Winthrop, and Rear Admiral Otserhaus, in command of the fleet.

WAS SHREWD MOVE BY REPUBLICANS

Democrats Find Themselves in Complete Control of the Senate.

TREACHERY BEING CHARGED

Had to Disregard Previous Arrangements With Insurgents for Party Consistency—Sharp Colloquy Ensues—Notes.

Washington, Aug. 17.—A shrewd move by the regular Republicans, as unexpected as it was effective, today suddenly threw the Democrats into complete control of the Senate in their own right, and forced them absolutely to abandon their coalition with the Progressive Republicans.

Out of the chaos and the uproar came a bill to revise the cotton schedule of the Payne-Aldrich tariff. It was the bill as passed by the House, but saddled with amendments to revise the iron and steel, the cotton machinery and the chemical schedules of the tariff law, coupled with a provision for reciprocal free trade in bituminous coal across the Canadian border.

The bill, as amended, will go back to the House, and probably will be sent to conference. If it emerges from this ordeal and goes to the White House, it unquestionably will meet the fate of the wool revision bill, which was vetoed today by President Taft.

Democratic votes alone were cast in favor of the bill. The regular Republicans deliberately absented themselves from the chamber and thus left their progressive colleagues in a hopeless and helpless minority. The insurgents, taken completely by surprise, were thrown into a rage.

Alternately they denounced what they termed the treachery of the Democrats with whom they had been in alliance, and inveighed against the regular Republicans for the part they had played in the new combination which had brought about a revolution in the Senate as startling and sensational as the coalition which earlier had robbed the regular Republicans of their supremacy, in the upper House of Congress. In vain the insurgents invoked all but forgotten rules of the Senate to compel the regulars to attend and to cast their votes. Senatorial courtesy, so long revered and jealously defended, was tossed to the winds. The insurgents charged that the Democrats had broken faith, although in caucus last night the latter had determined to carry through an Insurgent-Democratic programme on the cotton bill, which would have included the adoption of a LaFollette substitute for the House measure. They insisted the Democrats had entered into an agreement or understanding with the regulars to leave the Progressives in the lurch.

Neither the regular Republicans nor the Democrats would admit that such an understanding existed, but Senator Bristow, of Kansas, boldly declared that he had overheard a conversation between Senator Johnston, of Alabama, a Democrat, and Senator Penrose, of Pennsylvania, the regular Republican leader, that left no doubt in his mind.

Despite the drastic rules invoke many of the regular Republicans still insisted upon their right to decline to vote, and when serious consequences threatened, they resorted to motions to be excused, which in several cases were carried by safe majorities. The Democrats sought to relieve their new-found allies with a blanket motion of excuse from voting but this plan failed.

Whatever the agreement, whatever the understanding, the results accomplished were both definite and decisive. The Democrats found themselves in a position where for the sake of party consistency they had to disregard completely their previous arrangement with the insurgents.

This arrangement was based upon the belief that the Democratic House bill first would be defeated and that then the Democrats and Insurgents would combine to pass a LaFollette compromise measure just as was done with the wool schedule. When the voting began, however, there came a sudden realization that the Democratic bill would pass without the aid of the Insurgents, enough regular Republicans having walked out of the chamber to give the Democrats a clear majority, and still maintain the necessary quorum.

The break in the Senate coalition, which had made tariff legislation possible was taken to mean tonight the early approach of adjournment. The Democrats, it was said, already had set about to placate the Insurgents, but this was regarded as impossible after the events of the day. Without an effective working arrangement between these two elements of the Senate, all further attempts at legislation would be useless. Senator Penrose predicted tonight that the session would terminate with the week-end.

Amazement of Insurgents at the unexpected development today changed to a fighting spirit that lasted until the last roll call was taken. They insisted that the vice-president send out of the chamber for Republicans who

WILEY CREATES A SENSATION

Declared Three Cabinet Officers Reversed Government's Ruling—Caused by Offer of Money From Corn Products Co.

Washington, Aug. 17.—Dr. Harvey W. Wiley, chief of the Bureau of Chemistry, created a sensation today before the House Investigating Committee when he charged that three cabinet officers, sitting as a board of review, had reversed the government's ruling in a corporation case, after the corporation had offered money to chemists to endorse its food products. The case was that of the Corn Products Company whose right to apply the name of "Corn Syrup" to glucose, the Bureau of Chemistry and the Board of Food and Drug Inspection had denied.

Dr. Wiley testified that when the bureau and the board had agreed that the name was a misapplication, the corporation had offered money to chemists to make affidavits that "corn syrup" was a proper description. Shortly afterward, he declared, the board of three cabinet officers, Secretary of the Treasury Cortleyou, Secretary of Commerce and Labor Straus, and Secretary of Agriculture Wilson, set aside the decision and sustained the contention of the corporation. "That ruling," he added, "still stands."

The Corn Products Company, said Dr. Wiley, charged that he had been "very busy" in creating sentiment against its products. He acknowleged that he had written to every State chemist whose duty it was to enforce the pure food laws. He said he did not receive one answer favorable to "corn syrup." He will resume the stand tomorrow.

(Special Star Correspondence.)

Wadesboro, N. C., Aug. 16.—The first bale of new cotton to be sold in North Carolina this season was sold here this afternoon by Mr. John S. Watkins. The cotton was grown on his farm near Wadesboro. Mr. Watkins gathered the cotton yesterday, and it was ginned at the Wadesboro branch of the Southern Cotton Oil Company's ginnery. The bale weighed 470 pounds and brought 12 1-2 cents per pound. It was bought by Leak & Marshall. This is a great hoonr to Mr. Watkins and Anson county to produce the first bale of cotton for the State.

The robber dropped an axe with which he broke into the store and escaped across the Pee Dee river. Buckshot and blood on the handle of the axe indicated that the man had been wounded. Posses have been on the trail all day, but nothing has been seen of the robber.

ATWOOD ADVANCES ON LONG FLIGHT

Aviator Landed Yesterday at Cleveland After Going 123 Miles.

SEE NEW YORK IN FIVE DAYS

Landed Twice by Mistake in Trying to Reach Cleveland—Thouands Greeted Him—Features of the Flight.

Cleveland, O., Aug. 17.—With another gain to his credit of 123 miles, Harry N. Atwood arrived in Cleveland this afternoon in his aeroplane flight from St. Louis to New York. He covered the 123 miles between Toledo and Cleveland in an actual flying time of two hours and 20 minutes.

"Just an easy canter," said Atwood as he stepped from his biplane in a park on the lakeshore of the city. In five days New York will see me hop over its tallest skyscrapers and glide into the sand at Coney Island."

The Bostonian has now traveled 643 miles from his starting point in St. Louis. He has still 622 miles to fly to reach his destination in New York. He therefore has gone just ten and one-half more miles more than half of the 1,265 mile trip which he says will show the possibility of a future ocean to ocean flight. His total time actually in the air since he left St. Louis last Monday is 13 hours and 15 minutes.

Blowing of whistles and the cheering of people crowded on the roofs of office buildings made Atwood's entry into Cleveland shortly before 5 o'clock as the ovations accorded him at St. Louis, Chicago and Toledo. Coming with the "up hill" slant usual with him when approaching a city the airman soared to an altitude of 1,500 feet, where enveloped in the misty atmosphere the biplane was only indistinctly visible to the thousands of eyes turned toward it.

That an aeronaut cannot quickly pick out the spot arranged for his landing in a strange city was again evidenced when Atwood by mistake at 4:41 P. M. descended at Edgewater Park in the western section, whereas Euclid Beach, three miles to the east had been officially assigned to him. Not to disappoint the people Atwood again ascended and in 15 minutes covered the 13 miles over the city and safely landed. A second later he threw his suit cases out of the biplane and jumped out, his face reddened by the hard drive against the wind.

Leaving Toledo at 10:29 A. M., Atwood skirted along the edge of Lake Erie at an altitude varying from 200 to 500 feet. He made intermediate lands at Venice and Sandusky, although his schedule called for only one landing. For 20 miles after leaving Sandusky at 3:15 P. M. he steered his machine out over the lake while the populations of towns and villages ran to the water's edge.

Finding that the air currents over the lake were too uncertain Atwood returned to a point over the land and at Lorain resumed his regular course over the Lake Shore & Michigan Southern Railroad tracks. With farms, woods, villages and rivers spinning beneath him in a blurr, caused by a mist which swept in from the lake, he made his best time between Toledo and Venice. He flew the 55 miles in 59 minutes, including time lost in searching for a landing place. According to the programme he was to have landed first at Sandusky, three miles further east, but coming up at more than a mile a minute clip, he saw that the proposed landing place, where thousands of people were gathered, was too small. Quickly veering around he retraced his route, and spying an open area at Venice landed there. This accounted for his making two stops instead of one in the Toledo-Cleveland run.

Atwood up to a late hour tonight was uncertain what his programme would be for tomorrow. He said he probably would not leave Cleveland until the afternoon and then would start on a 95-mile trip for Erie, Pa., going by way of Ashtabula, Ohio, and arriving in Erie about sundown.

Still, he said, a change in this plan might result in his starting earlier and going on to Buffalo.

DR. Wm. P. FEW MARRIED

President of Trinity Weds Miss Mary Thomas at Martinsville, Va.

Durham, N. C., Aug. 17.—A romance which began a few years ago in a class room at Trinity College here, culminated tonight in the marriage at Martinsville, Va., of President Few, of Trinity, and Miss Mary Reamey Thomas, a member of the class which was graduated from the institution in 1906. The Association that began when Miss Thomas, as a Trinity student, was a member of one of Dr. Few's classes, soon ripened into a friendship which presently gave way to an attachment of a deeper sort. Miss Thomas is the daughter of former Representative Lyne S. Thomas, of Virginia, and following graduation from Trinity studied at Columbia University and traveled extensively. Dr. and Mrs. Few will reside in Durham.

COMMISSIONERS IN ASHEVILLE

D. McEachern Elected President and Wrightsville Beach Captures the Next Convention—Vice Presidents Named.

(Special Star Telegram.)

Asheville, N. C., Aug. 17.—On account of the absence of Dr. Joseph Hyde Pratt, who was on the programme for an address on good roads, the remaining business of the convention of the State Association of County Commissioners was crowded into the afternoon session.

Officers were elected and late this evening the convention adjourned to meet next year at Wrightsville Beach.

D. McEachern, of Wilmington, was elected president and W. M. Long, of Mecklenburg, vice president.

The following were elected vice presidents for the ten congressional districts in the order in which they are named: T. W. Ivans, Tyner; R. J. Shields, Windsor; J. V. Bell, Pollocksville; D. T. Johnson, Raleigh; W. C. Tucker, Pleasant Grove; J. W. Carter, Maxton; W. C. Long, Unionville; P. B. Beard, Salisbury; O. E. Foard, Shelby; E. W. Patton, Asheville.

An executive committee was also named and committee reports were read. The committee on resolutions did not make a definite report as to recommendations on the tax question because of the limited time.

The Opening Sesion

The first session of the convention convened yesterday morning at 10 o'clock in the ball room of the Swannanoa-Berkeley Hotel, with an attendance of nearly 100 delegates from all over the State. The exercises yesterday morning consisted of prayer by Dr. Charles W. Byrd; the address of welcome by Hon. Locke Craig; the response by C. E. Foy, of Newbern, the president of the Association; the roll call; the report of the secretary and treasurer and the appointment of committees. Mr. Foy presided over the meeting and the acting secretary is Miss Ina Eubank, of Newbern.

As shown by the register there are 45 counties represented at the convention; but some of the counties have from two to four delegates. The counties represented are as follows: Craven, Robeson, Franklin, Beaufort, Rutherford, Buncombe, New Hanover, Hyde, Brunswick, Greene, Pitt Guilford, Jones, Yadkin, Iredell, Bertie, Davidson, Perquimmans, Cleveland, McDowell, Mecklenburg, Cherokee, Lenoir, Gaston, Halifax, Northampton, Warren, Caswell, Rowan, Gates, Chowan, Graham, Pender, Moore, Union, Montgomry, Lee, Columbus, Cumberland, Rockingham, Washington, Wake, Sampson, Vance. It is expected that other counties will be represented before the convention closes. The attendance at this convention is far greater than that of any other.

After the meeting had been opened with prayer by Dr. Byrd, President Foy introduced Mr. Craig who delivered the address of welcome in behalf of the city. Mr. Craig spoke of Asheville as a convention city and declared that the people of Asheville are happy to welcome a body of such intelligent men as make up this convention. He refrered to the constitution of 1868 which made the township the unit of government but he said that this system had been abandoned to some extent so that the county is considered the unit of government. He declared that the best of all government is local government. He then spoke of the systems of taxation and of the injustice of indirect taxation, saying that the people would not stand for it for a minute if they could but realize the amount of taxes which they paid unconsciously; that the direct taxes were as nothing as compared to the indirect. In some respects he said, the average man pays as much indirect tax as the millionaire. He declared the best government is the one administered close to the people, the kind administered by the county commissioners. He also spoke of the progress that is now being made by the State.

In conclusion he referred again to the hospitality which the people of Asheville extend to the delegates, that though they may be poor in some respects they have an infinite desire to serve the visitors.

President Foy followed the address of Mr. Craig with a response in behalf of the deelgates. He spoke of the suitability of Asheville as a place for conventions. He said that the rarified atmosphere might enable the delegates to see matters of business and consider problems more clearly. He praised the location of the city and the character and diversity of the citizenship; he stated that people have come here from all parts of the world; have engaged in various enterprises and have joined the older citizens in the advancement of prosperity. He gave assurance of the appreciation of the delegates for the welcome they had received, after which he refrered to the progress that is being made all over the State, and declared that the purpose of the association is in accord with the spirit of the times.

President Foy then went into a history of the organization of the Association with which he had much to do. It was in 1908 that he saw the necessity of introducing better methods into the conduct of the affairs of the counties and realized that this could only be done by concert of action. He began to correspond with chairmen all over the State and the result was a meeting at Morehead City and after this the charter was obtained though there was some opposition, and the Association has steadily grown in usefulness.

The roll was then called by counties and districts after which there was the report of the secretary and treasurer and the appointment of committees.

TAFT AGAIN USES HIS VETO POWER

President Disapproves Action Taken on Wool Tariff Measure.

UNDERWOOD TO RENEW FIGHT

Republican Applause Was Followed by Democratic Cheers—Will Try to Pass the Bill Over President's Veto.

Washington, Aug. 17.—Republican applause which greeted President Taft's veto of the wool tariff bill as it was read in the House late today, was followed by an outburst of Democratic cheers when Majority Leader Underwood announced that he would call up the bill tomorrow and move its passage over the veto.

The President's veto message reached the House while the roll was being called on Mr. Underwood's motion to concur in the Senate amendments to the free list bill. When the conference report on that bill, its final legislative stage was announced, the reading of the President's message was begun, each member following the President's words from printed copies of the veto, which had been distributed. When the reading was concluded Mr. Underwood arose.

"Mr. Speaker," he said, "I do not desire to ask that this message from the President be referred to the Committee on Ways and Means. I ask that it lie on the Speaker's table and give notice that I will call up the bill tomorrow, immediately after the reading of the journal, and move to pass it over the President's veto."

Cheers and shouts from the Democratic members greeted the announcement. Representative Garrett, of Tennessee, when quiet was restored, asked unanimous consent to incorporate in the record a portion of President Taft's speech at Winona, Minn., in the last campaign, in which he described the wool schedule of the Payne-Aldrich tariff bill as "indefensible." Republican Leader Mann asked unanimous consent to incorporate the entire Winona speech in the record, which carried.

The Democratic majority tomorrow will make a determined effort to pass the bill over the veto. They have hopes that they will be able to do this. Representative Mann and other Republican leaders expressed confidence tonight that this will be impossible. Representative Dwight, the Republican whip, has told the President that the majority will not be able to muster enough to carry the bill by a two-thirds vote. On the recent passage of the compromise bill in the House the vote was 206 to 90.

Many members of both parties reached Washington today and all absentees are ordered to be on hand tomorrow. The Democrats expect, with their full quota of members present, together with the 30 Republicans who voted for the bill, that they can develop a two-thirds majority. Republican leaders assert that many of the insurgents who voted for the bill will not do so over the President's head.

The House and Senate disposed of the free list bill as agreed upon in conference and it was signed tonight by Vice President Sherman and Speaker Clark. It will be sent to the President tomorrow.

President Taft today carried out his threat to veto the wool tariff bill. In a special message to the House of Representatives, he characterized the measure a blend of an avowed tariff for revenue and anti-protection measure with a professed protection bill.

In explanation of his course, President Taft said the bill was not in harmony with the platform on which he was elected. Furthermore, he declared that the American people are "deeply impressed with the conviction" that the interest of the consuming public can be properly guarded only by revising the tariff one schedule at a time and then upon "accurate and scientifically acquired information."

That there is a widespread belief that many of the rates in the wool schedule are too high and in excess of any needed protection for the wool grower and manufacturer is admitted by President Taft and he says he shares this belief. Asserting that December was the time fixed by both the Republican and Democratic parties in the last Congress for the submission of adequate information upon Schedule K. with a view to its amendment, the President says there is no public exigency "requiring revision in August without adequate information."

After declaring that the business of the country rests on a protective basis and emphasizing the need of a reliable source of information for legislative action, the President promises that the tariff board will be ready to report in December and argues that the failure of the present bill should not be regarded, therefore, as taking away the only change for reduction by this Congress. After quoting from a report of the Tariff Commission Association commends the work of the tariff board, the President continues: "I have thus reviewed the history of the movement for the establishment of a tariff commission or board in order to show that the real advance and reform in tariff legislation are to be found in the requiring of adequate and impartial

FLEMING CASE IN RALEIGH

Sensational Evidence Brought Out During Hearing Yesterday.

(Special Star Telegram.)

Raleigh, N. C., Aug. 17.—Percy B. Fleming was on the witness stand under cross-examination this evening when Chief Justice Walter Clark announced a recess for the day in the sensational Fleming case involving the custody of the two children. Fleming testified that eighteen months of happy married life in spite of alleged extravagancies he said, she forced him to what made him insolvent when he had been worth $10,000 when married. He said the first trouble was when his wife wrote Mrs Wood in 1908 at Beaufort 'Give my love and tell him how sorry I am her will was not God's will," said he locked himself in his room, threatened to commit suicide if the door was forced, but did not have the nerve. He charged undue intimacy with M. W. Tyree, photographer, that once he, Tyree and Barten Wise were drinking and fought on account of these jealousies, he having gotten his shot gun too late to use it. Afterwards they made up and Fleming asked Tyree to talk to Mrs. Fleming about the way she was doing. He said John Winder, Jr., was too intimate with his wife. That he came one night and took Mrs. Fleming and Miss Narnie Rogers for an automobile ride and that he locked the house and the two had trouble in getting in on return at 11:30 o'clock. He denied that he drew a revolver on Mrs. Fleming that night as she came in at window and caused her to faint. He admitted his wife poured out bottle of liquor at Chase City while they were on wedding trip. Said he drank as much as he wanted, was about crazy and had determined to write his will. He admitted having servants keep note of telephone calls and ocnversations of his wife in his absence.

The first witness was Helen Wright colored, of Louisburg, who testified that she was a servant in the Fleming home here three months and saw Mr Tyree at the house once. That she thought it was Mr. Fleming upstairs with Mrs. Fleming, one afternoon, but she found it was Mr. Tyree, and that Mrs. Fleming slammed the door in her face and charged her not to tell Mr. Fleming of anything she saw. And that Mrs. Fleming gave her a hat. That Mrs. Fleming and Tyree went driving that afternoon and that she carried two notes from Mrs. Fleming to John Winder. She pointed out Tyree in the court room as the man she saw at the Fleming home.

G. L. O. White, an ice cream manufacturer, testified that the general reputation of Mrs. Fleming was bad and he had heard reports that her conduct was driving her husband to drink. He had heard Major J. B. Hill and Geo. B. Fleming mention this.

The third witness was Robert Dawkins, the negro hackman, who testified that he had served as cook and utility man for the Flemings, and that Mrs. Fleming called him one night in August, 1910, to drive her to the Tyree studio, and he waited for her until midnight. He testified that another time he drove Mrs. Fleming and Tyree from the residence of Mr. Charlie Briggs. Said Mrs. Fleming and Tyree quarreled slightly but went with him. He said Mrs. Fleming struck her husband right after he had the accident a few weeks ago, when he had his hand terribly burned by an electric wire, and that he went to South Carolina recently because Mrs. Tyree told him he had better leave here. On cross-examination, he admitted that he was in Louisburg two weeks ago, where Dr. Fleming lives, and admitted that he had taken drinks with Fleming, but denied that he had "frolicked" with him. At 1:30 o'clock the court took a recess to 3 o'clock, when Mr. Fleming took the stand, as detailed above.

BASEBALL HERE LABOR DAY

Arrangements Made by Mr. Wm. Struthers, Jr., for Doubleheader Between Greensboro and Greenville, S. C.

The baseball fans of Wilmington and the surrounding section will be interested in the announcement made yesterday by Mr. William Struthers, Jr., the well-known baseball enthusiast, that arrangements have just been made for a doubleheader at League Park Labor Day, September 4th, between the Greensboro and Greenville, S. C., teams of the Carolina Association. The contract for the games was closed yesterday and Mr. Struthers said that it is certain both teams will be here to play because both have rp forfeits.

The management of both teams agreed to bring the regular players on their teams. Greensboro stands second best in the percentage column with the other teams of the association. Greenville, unfortunately, does not occupy as high a position, but it is said that the team is a strong one and will be able to make the Greensboro team work hard for all it gets. It is expected that there will be a large number of out-of-town visitors here for the games and not a few are expected to accompany the Greensboro team and probably some fans will come with the South Carolina club.

One game will be played in the morning and the other will be played in the afternoon. Mr. Struthers said that he was determined that the fans of Wilmington should have the opportunity to see a game between professionals on the local diamond before the close of the season, hence his efforts in getting the contract for Labor Day.

JOHN CASEY HELD.

Arrested Here, Carried to Newbern and Bound Over.

Newbern, N. C., Aug. 17.—John Casey, a young white man who lives at Goldsboro was brought to this city this morning from Wilmington and given a hearing before Justice of the Peace S. P. Street, and a warrant charging him with the larceny of two diamond rings from the trunk of Miss Lillian Haithcock, of Winston-Salem, while he was in the employ of the Norfolk-Southern Railway Company. Probable cause was found and he was placed in jail in default of a $000 bond.

Goldsboro, N. C., Aug. 17.—Tonight detectives arrested W. C. Cooper, in this city, a young white man employed by the Norfolk-Southern Railway as baggage master, running between this city and Morehead City, who is chargd with stealing valuables from the baggage of passengers traveling on the road. John Casey, another young white man of this city, was also arrested by detectives charged with the same offense. Both the young men run as baggage masters from this city to Morehead City and it seems from information gathered they were in co-partnership and divided all stolen articles they secured from trunks and other baggage. Casey was arrested in Wilmington this morning at 3 o'clock and taken to Newbern where he and Cooper will be given a hearing tomorrow The stealing from baggage on the Norfolk-Southern Railroad has been going on for quite a while and detectives have been quietly working on the case with the result that they secured a clue which threw suspicion on the young men with the result that they both confessed as having been guilty of the crime when arrested by the detectives. Each "squealed" on the other when arrested, although there was no direct evidence against them, they only being under suspicion by the officers who worked a clever ruse which worked like a charm. Hundreds of dollars worth of goods have been stolen but at this writing it is impossible to learn how the young men disposed of the property. Both were off their run for a two weeks vacation at the time of their arrest. Young Casey is well-known in this city and comes from a good family of people and his being in the trouble came as a great surprise to his friends here. Cooper was also well-known here and was only recently married and was residing here with his young bride who is heart broken.

Will Break Camp Today.

The five companies of the North Carolina National Guard composing the Coast Artillery Corps, which have been in annual encampment at Fort Caswell for the past two weeks will break camp today, and the companies from Newbern, Charlotte, Greensboro and Salisbury will pass through the city en route to their homes. The other company is the Wilmington Light Infantry, of this city. The United States regular troops stationed at the fort participated in the maneuvers and exercises that have been held during the encampment and much valuable experience has been had by the militiamen. For the past two days practice has been held with the service guns and the officers in charge were well pleased with the splendid showing made by the boys.

WOMAN'S WEEK

Interesting Sessions of Conference at Presbyterian Mountain Resort.

(By Mamie Bays.)

Montreat, Aug. 16.—This week may be very appropriately designated as "Woman's Week" at Montreat. The Woman's Conference has held sessions this week, including three days, and the programme throughout has been interesting and instructive regarding the work of Foreign and Home Missions which the women of the Southern Presbyterian Church are doing. The Summer Asembly includes the Woman's Conference in its programme every year, but the attendance never has been so large as this year, nor has the conference during previous years been provided with a programme so wide in its scope and carried out so systematically. The motto of this conference is, "Let our service be inspired by love and measured by sacrifice." The delegates enrolled number 196, and there are in addition to these, a number of women who are atending the sessions of the conference as visitors. Among the delegates are several missionaries who are just from their fields of labor, and their addresses have been heard with special interest. The delegates include representatives from almost every State in the General Assembly of the Southern Presbyterian Church.

The sesions of the conference have begun each day with the Bible hour, which Rev. R. G. Pearson, D. D., conducts. The basis of the addresses of Dr. Pearson this week is the Book of Acts, and he is heard each day by large audiences. Monday and Wednday evenings popular meetings were held, Rev. James I. Vance, D. D., of Nashville, being the speaker on Monday, and Rev. Howard Agnew Johnston, D. D., of Stanford, Conn., delivering the address on Wednesday. The subject which Dr. Vance used at this time was "The Home Missionary Challenge," and the theme of Dr. Johnstone's address was "A Man of Power."

Among the delegates to the Woman's Conference there are women who have had experience as workers in the mountain districts of the Church, others who have had close contact with the problem of the foreigner, and others who are in vital touch with work for the negro. Mrs. John Little, of Louisville, who shares in every phase of the wonderful work which her husband is accomplishing in the Presbyterian Mission for negroes in that city, has been heard with special interest during this conference.

Tuesday evening a general reception was held in the auditorium, and no social feature of Montreat during the present season has proven more enjoyable than this. The reception was given under the direction of the Woman's Conference, but it was general and informal in character, and all residents and visitors at Montreat were cordially invited to enjoy the hospitality of the occasion, and many availed themselves of this opportunity.

It is believed by the women who are in charge of the programme of this conference, and by others who are in closest touch with the different phases of the work of the women in the Church, that this conference will result in quickening of effort in the inteerst of Home and Foreign Missions among the women in all parts of the Church, and that the result will be larger and more thorough organization and more liberal contributions to the work.

The third period of the Summer Assembly will begin the latter part of the week, and the promise is that the attenance of visitors will be as large during this period as during the two periods preceding. There will be prominent speakers who have not appeared on the programme before during this season, men of prominence and popularity, and they will be heard with interest. The addresses of Dr. Johnson, to be delivered each day during this period are anticipated with special pleasure. He was one of the speakers at Montreat several years ago, and the programme committee this year received many requests to secure him as one of the speakers again this season if possible.

Saturday evening a humorous lecture will be delivered.

It is expected that many people who have not visited Montreat this Summer will do so the latter part of this week, and it may be that a number who have been here before will return. Saturday will be the last day when the very low railroad rates to Black Mountain will be sold this season, and many will no doubt take advantage of that fact, remembering that these tickets will be good until the eighth of September.

One of the most thoroughly enjoyable features of the programme at Montreat this week was the "Story Hour," given by Miss Meta Eloise Beall, of Greensboro, who for the past two weeks has been conducting the "Children's Conference" and the "Children's Playground," in which children and mothers also have found much pleasure.

During the "Story Hour" young and old alike wandered in the world of fairies and heroes, as Miss Beall led them from the mysteries of one field of fiction to another in that entertaining and realistic manner which caused her hearers to feel almost as if the characters of whom she told were those of real life and were in their midst.

The only admission fee, as announced, was "a sunny face and a happy heart," consequently a large number were present to enjoy an hour into which care entered not and during which older folks with children in the enjoyment of the innocent diversion of childhood.

Miss Beall is an accomplished kindergartener, and is also a most delightful and cultured young woman. Her personality has that charm which wins friends for her among young and old alike. The conference which she has conducted has added a large degree of pleasure to the programme at Montreat this Summer, and there are many here who note with regret the close of this conference.

Held Pending Negro's Wound.

The trial of the case against Valentine Howe, colored, charged with assault with deadly weapon on Walter Guion, colored, was continued until the latter is able to leave the hospital, where he was taken shortly after he was shot Tuesday night. The shooting occurred at the home of Viola Sterling. Howe was arrested Wednesday afternoon by Officer D. W. Coleman, who did a clever piece of work in locating the negro.

DUNCAN IN A SCRAP.

Raleigh, N. C., Aug. 17.—National Republican Committeeman E. Carl Duncan, of Raleigh, today engaged in a personal encounter with W. J. Martin, the Raleigh correspondent for the Charlotte Observer and other State papers, on account of a political story which appeared in the Observer on Monday of this week. The National Committeeman met the correspondent on the street and demanded a retraction. He was told that the matter would be looked into, whereupon he struck the correspondent. A personal encounter followed.

(Special Star Correspondence.)

Raleigh, N. C., Aug. 17.—Republican National Committeeman E. C. Duncan and his political friends here assert that the political talk which was reflected in a political newspaper story from Raleigh Monday to the effect that Mr. Duncan, as National Committeeman, had used the power due to this office in such way as to elicit contributions from Federal office holders in the State that were not for the necessary party maintenance, but rather in the interest of personal friendship, does him an injustice. That he has done no such thing and that these reports are being circulated to injure his standing in the party and have no foundation in fact. The newspaper report merely reflected the status of the contest that is on among Republicans for State control from the viewpoint that the Chairman Morehead forces are planning to dethrone Duncan as National Committeeman on these and other issues and that National Committeeman Duncan and his forces were preparing for a fight to both retain Mr. Duncan as National Committeeman and regain the State chairmanship for a Duncan man, possibly Wheeler Martin.

Dr. Duncan met W. J. Martin, the Raleigh newspaper man, who handled the story, this morning on Fayetteville street, demanded retraction of the story. Mr. Martin told him the matter was common political talk here and that he would look into the matter. He desired to be fair in his news service. Mr. Duncan became angered at Mr. Martin's attitude in not saying at once that there would be retraction of the news report and struck him. There were several passes between the two, neither being injured, however, before parties ran between them.

Rheumatism Yields to MILAM

Read The Proof:

Former U. S. Postmaster Recommends Milam.

Gentlemen:—My niece suffered for many years with a trouble pronounced by her physicians as Uric Acid Rheumatism, and although he treated her, she never obtained relief.

Being well acquainted with MILAM and knowing it had been used successfully very frequently in similar cases, I determined to put her on it. She took six bottles with the happiest results. I regard her as being entirely relieved, and will always take pleasure in recommending MILAM for Uric Acid troubles.

Yours truly, C. T. BARKSDALE.

Spent $3,000 on Rheumatism.

Norfolk, Va., July 23, 1910.

About five weeks ago I was induced to take Milam for an aggravated case of Rheumatism, for which I had spent over $3,000 for all known remedies and tried many doctors, went to Hot Springs, but received no benefit whatever. For fifteen years I have been a sufferer, each spring I have been in bed and incapitated for work until this spring, which, I am glad to say, I have been attending to my business, feel fine, splendid appetite, and feel confident that I will be a cured man from rheumatism.

I wish to say that Milam has done all you claim it will do in my case, so far, and I look forward to a speedy recovery, and would not take five times the amount of the price of the medicine for what it has done for me so far.

Yours very truly, C. H. WADE.

Rheumatism Entirely Gone.

I was a great sufferer from Rheumatism and decided to try MILAM. I bought six bottles, and am now on my fourth bottle. I can truthfully say that I have never taken a medicine that has done me as much good. My Rheumatism is entirely gone, my complexion greatly improved and my appetite good—in fact, I have not felt so well in a long time. I would not take $50.00 for the good your medicine has done me, but in order to be sure that the trouble is entirely eradicated, I will take the two remaining bottles.

I voluntarily give this testimonial, and cheerfully recommend Milam to anyone suffering from Rheumatism.

CAROLINIANS IN CONGRESS

Senatorial Race Being Discussed in Washington—Delegation Appears Safe for Re-Election. LaFollette's Utterances.

(Special Star Correspondence.)

Washington, Aug. 17.—The North Carolina delegation in Washington is like all other Congressional delegations when it considers political gossip, it becomes excited.

The Senatorial race, with Messrs. Simmons, Kitchin, Aycock and Clark in the field, is warming up.

The little journeys of Charles Brantley Aycock to the people has given quite a different turn to things.

Mr. Aycock is one of the most charming gentlemen ever in public life in North Carolina. Personally he is pure gold. I have been with him, seen him tried and never found him wanting. God gave him more than the ordinary man who aspires to office. Therefore, when he travels among the people the people warm to him, and he gets a cordial welcome.

Mr. Aycock will give somebody a good run for the Senate if his health permits him to go to the masses, where he is strong. He is more beloved by the one-gallus fellow in North Carolina than any other citizen. Those who expect to support other candidates need not try to discount that fact. There is no stain on his public record, no blemish on him.

People here are exercised about Mr. Aycock's visit to Mecklenburg. Some time ago when it was said that Mr. Aycock would not make a campaign of the State, or an aggressive fight for the senatorship, his friends feared he would not get far. The people are prone to forget. But, if the original programme has been abandoned for a new one, which provides for little journeys to the backwoods, Governor Aycock cannot be eliminated by the folly of some of his friends, pretended or real.

The House delegation is not worried. The prospects are bright for the Representatives. None of them anticipates serious trouble at the primaries but about three have some fears over the general election.

With promise of a Democratic President the Democratic Congressmen should have easy going. There will be pie, rich, succulent patronage pie, to be given out. The man who has been here and knows the ropes will be among the leaders at the pie counter, while the greenhorn will never see the pie until it is gone.

Democrats are entitled to patronage. They have not had much since the days of Grover Cleveland.

Representatives Small, Kitchin, Faison, Pou, Stedman, Godwin, Page, Doughton, Webb and Gudger will be renominated. There may be some small flourishes, but none of the old men will do down unless something out of the ordinary happens.

Godwin broke the sixth district two-term record and is now firmly fixed in the saddle.

Webb is stronger than ever. His independent stand here has helped him with a class of people who did not believe that he had backbone. A few Populistic yaps have called him a near-Republican, but the people of Cleveland county, where he is known, would lynch a man if he were to proclaim such an absurd accusation there.

Kitchin may have some opposition but will win in the end.

Pou is in a seat that others want, but he is in better form now than in previous years.

This is the way it looks. The Senatorial contest may involve some of the Representatives.

Strange things have come to pass in the United States Senate. Senator LaFollette is in the saddle. He has formed an alliance with the Democrats—an unholy alliance it seems to the man up the tree—and is "cracking President Taft over the head." That is the purpose of Mr. LaFollette; he loves the President not.

In 1898, or thereabout, certain well-known North Carolina Democrats were wild to form an alliance with Senator Marion Butler's followers. It required heroic efforts to stop the movement. Senator Overman was one of the men that fought bravely against such a proposition. So was Claude Kitchin. Brother Will was for fusion. So were many others.

Senator Overman has not taken well to the present fusion in the Senate. He thinks very little of it, but, being a good Democrat, he bowed to the will of the majority.

Oscar W. Underwood is not very enthusiastic over the LaFollette-Democratic coalition. Nothing good will come of it.

The Canadian reciprocity bill, President Taft's pet measure, has helped Mr. Taft. He has been growing in popularity ever since he cut loose from Roosevelt. The Western insurgents do not like him but the people generally think more of him than they did. If he were not a Republican he would be all right. The man is fine but he is on the wrong side of the fence.

LaFollette can't embarrass Mr. Taft. He lacks something that makes men popular in all sections.

"Less than four years ago," said Representative Pou to me the other day, "I saw Mr. LaFollette rise to address the Senate. When he had spoken for a few minutes he cast his eye over the Republican side of the chamber and saw that nearly every seat there had been vacated. The Wisconsin Senator evidently thought that his party colleagues had purposely left the chamber. It certainly did appear that the sudden vacating of chairs was not accidental.

"'I notice,' said the Wisconsin Senator, with some show of rising indignation, 'a number of vacant seats in this chamber. If I am not very badly mistaken, Mr. Prsident, some of those who have just vacated their seats temporarily will vacate them permanently when the people understand what is being done here.'

These are not the exact words, but I have given the substance. The Senator proceeded with his speech to an empty chamber.

"Within recent days I have watched the power and influence wielded by this same man who was treated contemptuously less than four years ago. He absolutely controls the situation in the Senate. He has support behind him to make a majority. He has shown but little disposition to run with old-line Republicans. For years the leader of the old Republican regime in the Senate could tell months in advance what was going to pass and what was not. Nobody, unless it be the Senator from Wisconsin, can do that today."

Yet, while this is true, there are Democrats in North Carolina who charged Senator Simmons with being controlled by the lumber trust because he stood with LaFollette, "the original friend of the people," against Canadian reciprocity.

Such is life. If a man is not with you nowadays he is "bought."

PICNIC AT ROCKY POINT.

Largely Attended, Many Wilmingtonians Among Them.

(Special Star Correspondence.)

Rocky Point, N. C., Aug. 17.—The picnic here today was attended by about 300 visitors from various sections. Wilmington was represented by Mr. and Mrs. Richard Warren, Misses May and Bessie Whitney, Mr. and Mrs. J. H. Johnson, Miss Delie Ketchum, Miss Eva Cobb, Mrs. Z. W. Whitehead, Wiley and Thos. R. Whitehead, Misses Annie and May Shepherd, Misses Nettie, Hannah and Hennie Sidbury. Most of the visitors will remain over for several days. Boston, Mass., sent a visitor, Mr. Johnson Williams, a former resident of Pender. Cronly sends Mr. Thomas Williams, while Warsaw has as a delegate Senator Rivers Johnson, who is chock full of good roads. The Butler Brothers are making the music and the good old "break-down" tune of "Casey Jones," seems to be the most popular one for the jig dance that is the all-absorbing topic.

There has been no speech making with the exception of young men out in the grove in buggies pouring forth that "same sweet story" told that has been oft repeated and means so much. The dinner, spread under the umbrageous folds of the beautiful grove could have fed easily three times the number present, and consisted of such viands as only Pender can boast of and Rocky Point always sets before her visitors. The farmers are talking crop prospects. It is thought that the rains following the extreme drought will cause cotton to shed badly, while corn and peanuts will make probably above an average crop.

A baseball game was played between the Ashton and Rocky Point teams, score 9 to 9—exciting game.

Senator Rivers Johnson is on the grounds and will give 30 days in the campaign for good roads. He says Duplin is hustling for this important measure.

HEYBURN CALLS IT ANARCHY.

Attacks Bill for Unanimous Supreme Court Decisions.

Washington, Aug. 16.—Senator Heyburn, of Idaho, today renewed his attack on the Bourne bill, which would make a unanimous decision of the Supreme Court necessary to declare a Federal or State law unconstitutional.

He declared the adoption of such legislation would be "anarchy pure and simple," and that this purpose in trying to prevent the second reading of the bill and its reference to any committee was to let the country know that "such proposed legislation could not go unchallenged."

Senator Root, of New York, expressed the opinion that the bill never would be acted upon favorable by any committee, but agreed with Senator Bacon, of Georgia, that it should at least be considered by the proper committee. It was then sent to the judiciary committee.

TAFT NAMES CONSULS.

Chas. L. Latham, of North Carolina, Will Go to Chile.

Washington, Aug. 17.—President Taft today sent to the Senate the following consular nominations:

Charles K. Moser, Virginia, Colombo, Ceylon; Philip E. Holland, Tennessee, Satillo, Mexico; Marion Letcher, Georgia, Progreso, Mexico; Frank Deedmeyer, Alabama, Leghorn, Italy; Charles L. Latham, North Carolina, Punta Arenas, Chile; Ralph H. Totten, Tennessee, Trieste, Austria; Maddin Summers, Tennessee, Chihuahua, Mexico; Theodore C. Hamm, Virginia, Durango, Mexico.

WOMEN MAY AVOID OPERATIONS

By taking Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound

The following letter from Mrs. Orville Rock will prove how unwise it is for women to submit to the dangers of a surgical operation when it may be avoided by taking Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound. She was four weeks in the hospital and came home suffering worse than before.

Here is her own statement.

Paw Paw, Mich.—"Two years ago I suffered very severely with a displacement. I could not be on my feet for a long time. My physician treated me for seven months without much relief and at last sent me to Ann Arbor for an operation. I was there four weeks and came home suffering worse than before. My mother advised me to try Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound, and I did. Today I am well and strong and do all my own housework. I owe my health to Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound and advise my friends who are afflicted with any female complaint to try it."—Mrs. ORVILLE ROCK, R. R. No. 5, Paw Paw, Michigan.

If you are ill do not drag along until an operation is necessary, but at once take Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound.

For thirty years it has been the standard remedy for women's ills, and has positively restored the health of thousands of women. Why don't you try it?

AFFAIRS AT STATE CAPITAL

Trial of Norris Today—Smallpox in Carolina—Invalid Home for the Nurses—Governor to Return —Other News Notes.

(Special Star Correspondence.)

Raleigh, N. C., Aug. 17.—The time for the preliminary hearing of the case against L. J. Norris, charged with the murder of J. B. Bissett in the woods east of Raleigh last Saturday night, has been fixed for Friday afternoon at 3 o'clock before Police Justice Walter Watson. Norris has retained B. M. Gatling and W. C. Harris as counsel. The police express confidence that they have gathered sufficient evidence to assure the holding of Norris for the Superior Court.

There is a steady stream of people coming from various sections of the State to Raleigh to be treated in the State laboratory of hygiene for bites by dogs that are found to have hydrophobia. Miss Nell Hester and Miss Blanche Hester came yesterday from Roxboro. Jack Cook came from Pitt county Monday and J. C. Carleton from Wadesboro. Dr. Shore, in charge of the laboratory, says this is about the average stream of people and that they come a half dozen or more a week.

A charter was issued today for The Wachovia Realty Co., of Winston-Salem, capital $40,000 by W. Reade Johnson, A. W. Weisner and others for real estate development.

It is announced from the office of Governor Kitchin here that the Governor will be in his office again Monday. The funeral of his mother was held Tuesday afternoon, but he is detained at the Kitchin home at Scotland Neck until Monday.

Dr. W. S. Rankin, secretary of the North Carolina Board of Health, gives out a statement showing that there were 72 foci of infection in smallpox in the State between October and February last, that is cases that made independent appearance in the State and that from these there developed 915 cases that cost the respective counties $9,775, or $150 per case; this shows 12 5-7 cases developed from each foci. He gives a tabulated statement showing that in the cost of smallpox in the State Wilson county led with 17 foci, costing the State $2,550, and Forsyth is second with 16 cases and costing $2,500. Wake, the next highest with 4 foci that cost $600 and the others of the 26 counties included in the report show from one to three foci and correspondingly low costs of treating the cases. Furthermore, it is shown that Virginia cost this State two foci and $600; Georgia four foci and $600. He says the most remarkable control of the disease was in Gaston county where Dr. L. N. Glenn had six independent foci or the disease and not a single adutional case developed from either of them. Also in Guilford county County Superintendent Edmond Harrison had nine foci of infection and only 33 cases developed. This, Dr. Rankin says, is especially remarkable in that Greensboro and Guilford are in such close touch to Forsyth county which was next to the most disastrous county in the report from the viewpoint of spread of the disease.

At the State Department of Agriculture the statement is made that there are still numbers of sections, especially along the line of northern counties bordering the Virginia line and in some parts of the west that continue very dry, much to the injury of the crop conditions. The rains, it is said at the department, continue to be very much in "spots." However, taken the State over, the crops are developing nicely now.

It develops that before the North Carolina Grand Encampment I. O. O. F. concluded its session here last evening it was decided to meet in August, 1912, at Wrightsville Beach instead of at Shelby where it was at first contemplated having it. The new Grand Patriarch, R. B. Clinghan, of Winston-Salem, has some aggressive plans for the campaign during the coming year for the quickening of the encampment activities and it is expected that there will be a showing of a very material progress when the reports of officers are submitted for the year's work at the Wrightville encampment.

This afternoon there was the funeral of Mrs. L. D. Womble, a most estimable lady of this city, who passed away yesterday after six weeks illness. The service was from the Presbyterian church of which she had for many years been a devoted member. She leaves six children: George I. Womble, Salisbury; Albert and Louis Womble, of this city; Mrs. W. Landon King, Washington, and Misses Ada V. and Frances Womble, of this city. Also two brothers and two sisters, Capt. G. N. Waitt, Salisbury; Capt. M. G. Waitt, Atlanta; Mrs. W. O. Fowler, Greensboro, and Mrs. M. E. Scarlette, Norfolk, Va.

The officers of the North Carolina Association of Trained Nurses are enthusiastic over a donation just made to the Asociation of an ideal site for the proposed Invalid Nurses' Home. The donation comes from Dr. I. J. Archer, of the Cragmont Sanitorium, Black Mountain. The site is in the midst of the famous Cragmont Estate which is one of the most beautiful sections of the Black Mountain region. The officers of the Association expect to begin in the Spring the erection of the buildings. Along with the donation of the site comes the tender of the free midical services of Dr. Archer, the generous owner of the estate.

Fighting Like Tigers.

In fighting to keep the blood pure the white corpusoles attack disease germs like tigers. But often germs multiply so fast the little fighters are overcome. Then see pimples, boils, eczema, salt-rheum and sores multiply and strength and appetite fail. This condition demands Electric Bitters to regulate stomach, liver and kidneys and to expel poisons from the blood. "They are the best blood purifier," writes C. T. Budahn, of Tracy, Cal., "I have ever found." They make rich, red blood, strong nerves and build up your health. Try them. 50c. at R. R. Bellamy.

Patriotism

The stomach is a larger factor in "life, liberty and the pursuit of happiness" than most people are aware. Patriotism can withstand hunger but not dyspepsia. The confirmed dyspeptic "is fit for treason, stratagems and spoils." The man who goes to the front for his country with a weak stomach will be a weak soldier and a fault finder.

A sound stomach makes for good citizenship as well as for health and happiness.

Diseases of the stomach and other organs of digestion and nutrition are promptly and permanently cured by the use of

Dr. PIERCE'S GOLDEN MEDICAL DISCOVERY. It builds up the body with sound flesh and solid muscle.

The dealer who offers a substitute for the "Discovery" is only seeking to make the little more profit realized on the sale of less meritorious preparations.

Dr. Pierce's Common Sense Medical Adviser is sent free on receipt of stamps to pay expense of mailing only. Send 21 one-cent stamps for the paper covered book, or 31 stamps for the cloth bound. Address World's Dispensary Medical Association, R. V. Pierce, M. D., President, Buffalo, N. Y.

S-U-C-C-E-S-S

It is the wish of all to obtain success in life. The way to reach this goal is easily defined—spend less than you make. To make a saving whenever you can means to pay cash for what you get, you are not then paying a part of the other man's bad debts.

The Big Store of Geo. O. Gaylord, on Front street, is not ashamed or afraid to do a credit business, but we find that by selling our goods for the cash we can discount our bills, and save quite a profit which we can give our customers the benefit of. It is supposed to be the dull season of the year now and in our Big Store we have it piled full of merchandise. The stock is complete and the clerks are kept busy. In the dress goods department on the first floor we are badly needing room, as the cotton will soon be opening and harvest time has come and we do not wish to pack those goods away for next season. We are selling our 12 1-2c organdie batiste, sheer lawns, all beautiful goods, for 7 1-2c per yard. Beautiful quality 40-inch white lawn in 10 to 20-yard lengths, which is cheap at 12 1-2c, a fresh supply from the factory for 9c per yard. An old ladies' American print calico in black and white, the best goods made, worth 8c per yard, and we will sell 10 yards to each customer for 5c a yard.

A big assortment of ladies' dresses to sell at just about half price, 50 cents on the dollar. A lot of ladies' slippers to close out, $1.50 values, and good shoes for the price, at 97 cents a pair. A big lot of men's linen sole, heel and toe with fine gause lisle tops, a good 25c sock, for 15c. A fine line of men's pants, all wool, sporty, $5.00 goods for $2.98 a pair.

FINE CLOTHES FOR MEN

The kind that are made by tailors that make the best. The cloth, the lining, the stiffening, the silk thread that they are sewed with, the color and the style are warranted by the Adler Rochester Clothing Co., the finest clothes made in the world.

We have a few suits of the Adler clothes left from our Spring purchases. The price of these suits are from $18.00 to $25.00 a suit and we will sell them now from $15.00 to $21.00 per suit. If you buy one Adler suit you will buy nothing else in the future but Adler clothing.

The Big Store on Front street is anxious to add you to their list of customers and will make it to your advantage to come in and see them. Remember the place.

A hot political fight is a sign that a bunch of zealous and jealous patriots are hot on the trail of some kind of office.

Smile and you will look good to the people who never smile. Don't ever get such a grouch on you that you won't look at the funny pictures.

Says the Milwaukee Free Press: "Women on a San Francisco jury disagreed." Well, what else did the lawyers put them on the jury to do?

The first woman has just been granted license as an aviator. She is already dubbed the birdwoman, but if she's pretty the real nice newspaper reporters will soon refer to her as the fairy flyer.

The predatory proclivities of George W. Perkins stuck out even in his testimony. "The ruling passion strong in death" applies to the conviction of Perk is adherring to his idea that trusts are good things because they eliminate pernicious competition.

"Kentucky, once the home of fine whiskey, is already as dry, proportionately, as South Carolina," says the Columbia Record. At the same time it is pretty safe to say that no man in South Carolina will let his throat become so dry that it will prove to be a dust receptacle.

Be an optimist and always get the sweet instead of the bitter. Paragrapher Bob Phillips, of the Greensboro News, is one of your optimists, for here is the way he gets the good out of the drought: "The pumpkin may not be as large as usual, on account of the dry weather, but the pies will be sweeter."

A Chicago paper last Sunday contained a story which began: "For the fourth time they said good-night, but he lingered on the frosty door step." Any girl with a frosty door step in August could get all sorts of lingering out of men at this season. Frosty steps would hold most any fellow for a while.

A woman writer who mentioned something that exposed a trick, received this compliment from a Congressman who pronounced her story as "a fabrication by an irresponsible, peticoated muckraker." If he would say that about a lady writer he wouldn't hesitate to call a man a pusileneous liar and a one-gallus scribbler.

The Columbia Record observes: "Governor Judson Harmon has notified Chairman Maymard, of the Democratic City Committee of Boston that he will be present at the Democratic pow-wow and outing, to be held on September 9." Pow-wow sounds good, but we shy at the word "outing." We want to see a Democratic "inning" with "Casey at the bat."

In a lecture on "Man's Natural Diet," Dr. Robert Bell tells us how to be young at 100. He says: "Man is the only animal on the face of the earth who cooks his food and therefore destroys its value. If only we would take a lesson from wild animals by adopting the diet which nature has provided for us, we should have a better, healthier, longer life." By Geminy, the doctor forgets that man lives four times as long as the average animal, with probably the exception of the elephant and the turtle. Of course, we suffer from improper cooking, but with it all we hold out longer than most of the other animals. We are no doctor, but we rather suspect that the reason that the elephant and the turtle live to be more than a hundred years old is that they have digestive apparatus that discount the average human breadbasket.

ADJUSTING THE TARIFF

Protection is privilege for special interests to get rich at the expense of the people. If it is wrong in New England, of course it is wrong in North Carolina, but to give New England protection and deprive North Carolina of it constitutes an inequality that is both a wrong and an outrage. It is discrimination of the rankest sort, and it is time for North Carolinians to recognize it and see that their State gets a square deal.

The tariff is a burden because it is taxation. A tariff for revenue is an indirect tax on consumers for the benefit of the government. A tariff which provides both revenue and protection is a double tax from which the government gets it share in revenue and the protected interests get their share in the privilege to charge higher for their products. A tariff schedule strictly for protection is one that levies such a high import duty that it prohibits imports and consequently the government gets no revenue. That kind of tariff tax is rank privilege and enables the protected interests to levy tribute on consumers to whatever extent they please, after they combine to eliminate competition among themselves. A tariff so high that it prohibits imports leaves consumers in the home market to be plucked by privilege, for it shuts out foreign competition. After foreign competition is eliminated, it is easy for the protected interests to combine and thus eliminate competition among themselves, so that a high tariff shuts out competition while combination prevents home competition, thus making possible the enormously rich monopolies that have grown up under the Republican policy.

Democrats realize the necessity of levying a tariff to provide revenue for the government, and Americans generally will concede it is common sense to levy a tariff that will produce revenue and at the same time prevent the destruction of some specific industries of the country that otherwise would find it impossible to exist. However, the special privilege tariff is a monstrous outrage, because it taxes the masses for the special enrichment of the few. The evidences are that public sentiment has revolted at such an outrageous policy, and the surprising part of it is that there has not been armed resistance to it. Tolerance of it demonstrates that Americans have either lost their wits, or are exercising a tremendous amount of patience in the belief that they can right their wrongs at the ballot box.

The intolerant spirit manifested today by millions of people has grown out of the wrongs heaped upon the people by the Republican party in its legislation for special interests. We have observed impotent Republican administrations engaged in futile and almost puerile efforts to give relief to the people from a system which their party built up under its privilege legislation. The absurdity of it is emphasized when the "big stick" is wielded with one hand and privilege is lavished with the other hand, the Republican swat amounting to very little more than a love lick compared to the tariff tribute it empties into the laps of the trusts which it is trying to "bust." It is to be compared to a father's hitting his kid a lick for invading the pantry and then leaving him in the pantry so he can go right on getting away with the pie and preserves.

The people have seen how it is and the result of the last election indicated that they had made up their minds that the Republican party could not be depended upon to remedy an evil that its policy had created and which it is still fostering. In the election in which President Taft was chosen the people trusted to the Republican party's promises for tariff revision. They took the pledge of the smiling Taft for a measure of relief, but Payne, Aldrich and Smoot thickened the privilege plot and the President was so receptive of it he pronounced the monstrosity the best of all the tariff bills. The people knew better and their indignation was voiced in a Democratic victory. They stormed the ballot boxes to hurl privilege from power. Taft and his party were repudiated. They put the grindstone on the panther's tail one time too many, and the consequence was a howling resentment.

A Democratic victory meant the confidence of the people in the ability of the Democratic party to uproot Republican wrong. That party is not entirely in command of legislation at Washington but it has set to work to remedy Republican evils, with a Republican President and a Republican Senate spoiling the broth. Therefore, complete relief will come only when we have a Democratic President backed by a Senate and House of his own party. Nevertheless, a Democratic House is endeavoring to give the people all the relief in its power. It is revising and adjusting the tariff, not with a view to revolutionize it, but to correct its most glaring inequalities. It is a task of great magnitude and its success depends upon the statesmanship of the party in the House and Senate. It has dangers in it, it is true, and already some of the measures of the Democratic House have been characterized by the New York Herald as "playing with fire." It is owing, however, to the point of view whether the Democrats are "playing with fire" or not, but it is true that the fire is there to be handled as gingerly as possible. Tremendous interests, both popular and vested, are at stake, and it is for Democratic statesmanship to strike the balance and come out victors in a situation that is both delicate and serious.

A mistake at this time would be fraught with terrible consequences to the only party in which there is any hope for the masses, but taken as a whole the party leadership is steering fairly well. If the radical element does not force too much at the beginning and the leaders can restrain those who want to put the knife in to the hilt, the party will go before the people in the next election and challenge their confidence for a complete Democratic administration.

The country is in no condition to stand radical and revolutionary reforms but it expects a safe and sane reversal of the Republican party's policy. No condition, industrial or financial, should be upset without regard to the consequences, and we should say that a conservative but determined effort to adjust things all along the line will be the surest way of gaining confidence for the Democracy and restoring the government to the people. The chances are good if they are not thrown away by turning the bull into the china shop.

Already our friend Oscar Underwood, Democratic leader in the House, and Senator Martin, the Democratic Senate leader, are under fire from Radical Democrats who charge that they were put there by "privilege," but the measures which they have put through prove that they are serving the "interests" in a mighty poor way by the legislation that has been secured in the interest of the people. Threats of vetoes from a Republican executive show that the "interests" are being hit. If our extreme friends are in earnest about their desire for Democratic success they had better change their tune, for the policy they represent will throw the fat in the fire.

The Democrats in Congress are adjusting and equalizing the tariff, and as the "world was not made in a minute" they are doing it fairly well. Senators Simmons and Overman and North Carolina's Representatives have been doing well in seeing to it that North Carolina is not discriminated against in equalizing the tariff and when it is all over and the roll is called on the record it will be found that they have been true to the best interests of North Carolina and the Democratic party. They will see that the country gets all the tariff revision that is coming to it, but The Star is glad that they are seeing to it that the tariff shall not be so revised that it will make North Carolina poorer and some other State richer. On the whole, they deserve to be told that they are doing just what North Carolina's representatives ought to do.

NO VETO JUST YET.

Things are reaching the critical stage in Washington, with the President and his old allies, the Democrats and Insurgents, drifting apart, and the standpat Republicans nestling up to the President after being at outs with him during the entire extra session of Congress.

The Washington dispatches in yesterday's Star stated the tariff situation this way: "The cotton tariff revision bill will come to a vote in the Senate with the Democrats pledged to accept the LaFollette iron and steel schedule as an amendment; the farmers' free list bill probably will be disposed of by the Senate tomorrow, with all differences between the two Houses adjusted, and the wool bill awaits the President's veto."

We do not expect to see the President veto the wool bill without giving it a chance to get cold. Probably he will wait till all the tariff legislation is in and then consider it as a whole. Meanwhile, influential Western papers, which warned President Taft and the Republican leaders against the Payne-Aldrich law, are now warning the President against vetoing the House bills, making reasonable reductions in the tariff. A veto might disappoint the Democrats but progressive Republican sentiment in the West will make a veto dangerous for Taft.

With the Democrats and insurgents becoming alienated from the President, it is said Standpatters are flocking to the White House to assure the President that they will fight to the last ditch before they will allow either the Senate or the House to pass any tariff measure over his veto. Owing to the fact that the standpatters have been playing in hard luck of late, there are signs at Washington that they are now taking advantage of the opportunity afforded them by the President to once more tie his administration to the Standpat wing of the party. Where does the President stand, anyhow?

Don't quarrel and contend till you lose control of yourself and want to fight, shoot or cut. It is positively too vulgar to hang on to an argument till some unintellectual controversialist gets mad. Whenever a party to a dispute gets mad it's a sign that he has lost his equilibrum, so it's a waste of time to have words with a fellow without some balance to him. Why should a man hang around until hostilities begin?

CURRENT COMMENT.

"Wanted—Board for a married gentleman whose wife has gone to the country." Now, isn't this pathetic?—Charleston Post.

The country will know Vardaman better next year. He may not be as big as Tillman, but he is not so rough; he is not as small as Davis, of Arkansas, but he is not a clown, a fool or a hypocrite.—Jacksonville Times-Union.

If there are many more cases of men tried for murdering their wives, it will soon be difficult for a young man to get the girl to say "yes" and we can't blame her much. The Combs case in Statesville, the Beattie affair in Richmond and two cases in Wilmington are fresh on our readers' minds.—Newton News.

Wilmington Star: "In every Southern State where there are campaigns for the election of a United States Senator, the Democrats have or are having a terrific fight among themselves. The principal issue involved is the ambition of men who want to get up higher." How is that for a succinct description of the situation?—Petersburg Index-Appeal.

A report has been current for the past few days to the effect that a prominent North Carolinian had said in Washington that "if Taft vetoes the cotton bill he will be well nigh invincible in North Carolina." That comment was much talked about in Washington and has reached the President's ear. Nobody would make such a statement who is in touch with the masses of voters in the State. Mr. Taft will not gain a hundred votes by vetoing this righteous bill and no thoughtful and well informed cotton mill men would turn over their votes as the price for such a veto. The truth about it is that North Carolina is a Democratic State, believes in a tariff for revenue only and Mr. Taft cannot get as many votes in the next election as he got in the last, no matter what course he pursues.—Raleigh News and Observer.

Governor Montague says that instead of Virginia occupying its former high place in the councils of the nation "the mother of States is a stench in the nostrils of the country." A Virginia senator is the leader of the Democratic party in the Senate of the United States and as such has accomplished more than has been brought to pass by that party in many years when in control of the Senate; a Democratic member of the House of Representatives from Virginia is chairman of the Committee on Agriculture; another is chairman of the Committee on Insular Affairs; another heads the Committee on Military Affairs; still another is chairman of the Committee on Territories. There is no Democratic State in the Union which has men at Washington occupying more positions of prominence than Virginia. It looks like Mr. Montague is giving the public a rehash of the speech which he used to make in his campaign against Senator Martin and that the rehash was not complete.—Petersburg Index-Appeal.

Two years ago some of the most influential Republican newspapers warned President Taft and the Republican leaders against the passage of the Aldrich-Payne tariff bill, and at that time predicted what came to pass at the polls last November. The same papers are now warning the President against vetoing the House bills making reasonable reductions in the tariff. For instance, the St. Paul Pioneer Press very frankly says: "Why should not the President sign any tariff reduction measures upon which Congress can agree? Constituted as it is Congress cannot agree upon any reduction bill framed for partisan purposes. Whatever measure runs the gauntlet of both houses must have irresistible public sentiment behind it." There is nothing so certain as that the people will refuse to accept as a satisfactory excuse the whim of the President that there should be no revision of the tariff in advance of the reports of his tariff board, because the people are saying that if such an excuse were sufficient in the case of the wool bill, why was it not applied to the reciprocity trade agreement? That is a question that cannot be easily poohpoohed, hence there is wisdom in the suggestion of the Pioneer Press that the President would score a popular hit by giving his approval not only to the wool bill, but also to any other measure aiming to lighten the burden of tariff taxation. The special interests, of course, would squirm and the standpat politicians protest, but the masses of the American people would applaud him.—New Orleans States.

FLIRTS WITH DEATH.

Beachey Star of Chicago Meet—Patents on Machines.

Chicago, Aug. 17.—An appeal to the United States courts to settle a claim that is said to bear the same relation to the aviation world that the Selden patent case did to the automobile world, was started here today. Suit was filed by the Wright Company in the United States District Court against the International Meet Association, its officers and members of the executive committee, claiming an infringement of patent by everyone of the two score aeroplanes at the meet and asking prospective profits and damages.

J. N. Miller, counsel for the Aero Club of America, said that the organization would defend the suit. Harold McCormick, president, and other officers of the local association, were directed to answer the summons the first Monday in October.

Beachey flirted with death again in his flight today and was forced to make another spectacular descent from which even his brother aviators scarcely expected him to escape alive. When about 2,000 feet high his engine ran out of gasoline. A stream of smoke could be seen stretching behind the aeroplane and it was at first thought the machine was on fire. He reached the earth by a steep glide, which threatened to dash him to pieces, but he brought the machine to a standstill and escaped unshaken. As a result of the accidents which have marred the cross-water events, the course has been changed from the crip course out into the lake, and future races will be flown along shore.

Results in the aviation field today were. Nine miles speed contest for biplanes: Lincoln Beachey won; time 13 minutes, 34.4 seconds. J. A. D. McCurdy, second; time 13 minutes 40 seconds.

Fastest lap of one mile and a third, Lincoln Beachey, one minute 27.08 seconds.

Starting, John J. Frisbie, 131 feet, 9 inches.

Bomb throwing, J. A. D. McCurdy, five points of possible 24.

Passenger carrying speed contest for monoplanes, Thomas Sopwith, 13 minutes 44.82 seconds.

THE BEATTIE TRIAL SOON

Well-Known Alienists Will Be Present During the Hearing.

Richmond, Va., Aug. 17.—It appeared today that arrangements have been made by which the prosicution in the case of Henry C. Beattie, Jr., the alleged wife murderer, for the attendance at the trial, which is to begin next Monday, of several of the best known alienists in Virginia, including Dr. W. F. Drewry, superintendent of the Central State Hospital for the insane, which is located at Petersburg, and Dr. J. S. DeJarnette, of Staunton, superintendent of the Western State Hospital. This indicates that the State is making provision against the possible introduction by the defense of testimony to prove Beattie mentally unsound. It has been reported a number of times that the defense might rely largely, if not mainly, on a plea of insanity, though that side of the case has not really given the slightest inkling of what its line of defense will be.

MR. MEARES ON PROPOSISION

Says No One Could Seriously Expect His Clients to Accept the Proposal Made by the City for Sewerage Plant.

Iredell Meares, Esq., attorney for the bondholders of the Wilmington Sewerage Company, gave out an interview yesterday afternoon relative to the counter proposition submitted to the bondholders by the City Council for the purchase of the existing sewerage system and incorporating it into a municipal system, which proposal is given in another column of today's paper. Mr. Meares said that he would submit the proposition to his clients, but did not suppose that any one would seriously expect them to accept it.

Mr. Meares said in substance that the sewerage company had for two years back offered to sell its system to the city at its actual value to be ascertained by arbitration, provided it was agreed in advance that the company would sell at the arbitrated price, if the city would buy. Continuing, he said: "The objection to the city's first proposition that it would buy at its actual value, 'provided the bondholders will put in a system of sewerage, at their own expense, such as the city of Wilmington will require * * * such construction to be approved, during the progress of the work, by an engineer selected by the city,' is the fact that the city might select an engineer, who would be paid 7 per cent. on the cost of construction, while for similar supervision engineers charge from 3 to 4 per cent., as shown by recent bids at Charlotte by engineers offering to supervise the building of waterworks, and the further fact that he could involve the bondholders in the indefinite expenditure of any sum that his whim, fancy, or interest might suggest; besides, the city might require every street within the corporate limits to be laid with sewers, about 90 miles, which would involve an expenditure, as I am advised, of seven to eight hundred thousand dollars.

As to the second proposition, Mr. Meares said that the city could, without the formality of an agreement, "employ an engineer, at its own expense, to go over the system and ascertain its present physical condition": in fact, he said, that the city now had before it the report of Messrs. Rapalje, Humphreys and Lucas, for which the city paid $900, and the report of Mr. George T. Hammond, who is a sanitary engineer of 25 years' experience, and now at the head of the bureau of sewer design for the city of Brooklyn, he said. There is no "portion of the system that is inadequate to perform the requirements imposed upon it," for its practical working demonstrates its efficiency, except 1,345 feet, which Mr. Hammond recommended be re-laid, out of a total of 34 1-2 miles of its main and laterals. To re-lay this, as the proposition requires, before ascertaining or arbitrating the value of the whole, would be like repairing a house that you intended to enlarge before undertaking the whole work. If any portion of it is inadequate, this would be considered in fixing its value, of course, and the work of correction could be made more advantageously and cheaper when the whole work was done. Of course, the engineer selected, not as an arbitrator, but as a representative of the city, would be expected to find faults, and it is evident that the city wants to use this report as a basis of trading, then, if they can't trade, they would bind us to arbitrate. It would be the fair thing that this should not be a one-sided examination, but two arbitrators should be selected, one each by either side, and both parties abide the result.

"The objection to the third proposition, after all the foregoing is done, is, that 'the sewerage company would then install a proper system of sewerage as desired by the city, under its own engineer, who shall determine 'the actual cost of the construction' and his estimate shall be the measure of value, binding upon both parties as to the new work. Then, by the fourth proposition," said Mr. Meares, "when these values have thus been arrived at, then the sewerage company shall execute a conveyance to the city of Wilmington, including its franchise, and the city will then execute a mortgage upon said system with interest at 4 1-2 per cent' This fourth proposition is objectionable, aside from its unreasonableness, because the city is without the legal power to execute such a mortgage that would be binding as a legal obligation.

"I cannot believe that the gentlemen submitting this proposition to the bondholders are serious. I do not think that a man, or set of men, with brains or capital, from Kalamazoo to Kamchatka could be found that would enter into any such proposition. I have no doubt that I will be authorized by the bondholders to stand pat on the propositions they have already made, with the modification only, as to our first proposition, (which was to build a completed system, bonding it for enough to cover both the present system at a value of $160,000, and the additional work of construction, and to sell it to the city subject to the outstanding bonds), so that the valuation of the present system be determined by arbitration. The work to be done under plans and the personal supervision of an engineer to be mutually agreed upon between the city and the bondholders.

"There is enough information and data relative to the sewerage system, in possession of the city authorities to enable any group of men, without further investigation, to determine approximately the value of this plant. The system was laid by engineers of high standing and character under plans approved by the State Board of Health, after its engineer visited Wilmington and reported favorably upon them. There are the reports of four engineers, Messrs. Rapalje, Lucas, Humphreys and Hammond, already referred to. There is no disagreement between these men as to the size of pipes, miles of sewer, number of manholes and the grades to which the sewers are built. The plant itself is here and its patrons do not complain of its service. There are the plans prepared by Mr. Anderson, of the firm of Hazelhurst & Anderson, which have been approved by the State Board of Health and there are his estimates as to the cost of construction which, if not filed at the City Hall, are in the possession of Mr. Charles W. Worth, the former chairman of the Water and Sewerage Commission. The city paid Hazelhurst & Anderson $3,000 for their sewer plans, specifications and estimates. It paid Messrs. Rapalje, Lucas and Humphreys $900. Besides, the city has a regularly employed engineer who would be entirely competent to aid them in a better knowledge of the sewerage plant. Mr. Anderson would not hesitate to say to the city, as he said to me personally, that the present system could be readily incorporated into the system for which he drew the plans. It seems to me that the city authorities have enough information, without spending several thousand dollars more for it, to determine their final action. I think my clients have gone to the length of reasonableness when they offer to sell at a fixed price, or to sell at a price fixed by arbitration, or to let their property be valued by arbitration, then, furnish the money to build a completed system, mortgage the property to cover the arbitrated value of the present plant and the cost of additional construction, and then sell to the city upon condition they pay interest on the bonds, which will run for 40 years, and, after five years, pay $10,000 annually to their liquidation; the city in the meantime to take the income of the property, which, with the city's police power to compel connection, would yield at an average of $6 per connection, enough to pay the interest and liquidate the bonds. My clients, as investors in the city, are entitled to some consideration, consistent with the public interests, and there is no fairer way to settle anything than by arbitration."

MAKE FULL CONFESSION

Young Man Admitted to Officers That He Rifled Baggage.

John Casey, a young white man, who was arrested here Wednesday night as the result of a nice piece of detective work of Special Officer ... J. Williams, of this city, on the charge of rifling trunks in transit on the Norfolk-Southern Railway, on which he was employed as baggage master between Goldsboro and Morehead City, was taken early yesterday morning to Newbern, where he was to have been given preliminary hearing during the day on one or two warrants. He was in custody of Spcial Agents J. L. Pettus and D. C. Flannigan, of the Norfolk-Southern, who arrived here early yesterday morning. Officer Pettus told a Star representative earily yesterday morning that Casey made a full confession of the part he played in the robbery of numerous trunks which were en route to Morehead City. Trunks have been robbed between Goldsboro and Morehead City at intervals ever since last March and it was stated by Officer Pettus that between $2,000 and $3,000 worth of jewelry and other valuables were stolen during the period. Practically all this property has been recoveerd through another person who is said to have been as deeply implicated as Casey but who had not been arrested yesterday morning. With the exception of two rings and one or two other articles all the stolen property has been recovered, by Officers Pettus and Flannigan. Mr. Pettus stated that the capture of Casey was due to the splendid ability and fine judgment of Special Officer Williams.

CITY SUBMITS PROPOSALS

Propositions Made to the Wilmington Sewerage Company at Meeting Yesterday—Sanitary Police Officers.

Following an important special meeting of the City Council at 11 o'clock yesterday morning, a counter proposition was submitted by the city to the Wilmington Sewerage Company for the purchase of the existing sewerage system and the incorporation of the plant in the proposed municipal system. The proposals of the city differ materially in several particulars from the propositions of the bondholders of the Wilmington Sewerage Company, and, as stated by Iredell Meares, Esq., attorney for the bondholders in an interview yesterday, it is unlikely that either of them will be accepted by the bondholders.

The propositions embody the ideas of members of the Council as brought out at several meetings at which the matter was discussed, particularly the one Wednesday morning. The city attorney was instructed at that meeting to draft the formal counter propositions and submit the document at a meeting to be held yesterday. Mr. J. N. Hazelhurst, consulting engineer for the waterworks plant and who has submitted a bid for the position of consulting engineer of the proposed sewerage plant, conferred with City Attorney McClammy before the document was drawn, and he was also present at the meeting yesterday to give the Council any suggestions he might be abie to make. In the main the document was drawn by the city attorney was approved by the Council, there being only a few minor changes. The following are the propositions as set forth in the communication to Iredell Meares, Esq., and approved by the Council:

"Wilmington, N. C., Aug. 17, 1911.

"Mr. Iredell Meares, Attorney for the Bondholders of Wilmington Sewerage Co., City.

"Dear Sir:—Replying to the three propositions submitted by the Wilmington Sewerage Company, through you, to the City Council, relative to the sale and enlargement of the sewerage system, the city of Wilmington desires to submit, for the consideration of the bondholders of the Wilmington Sewerage Company this counter proposition, which is as follows:

"First. The city will buy the Wilmington Sewerage Company's system at its actual value, provided the bondholders will put in a system of sewerage, at their own expense, such as the city of Wilmington will require, and which will be in accordance with the requirements of the North Carolina State Board of Health, such construction to be approved, during the progress of the work, by an engineer selected by the city.

"Second. Provided further, that the city of Wilmington is to employ an engineer, at its own expense, to go over the system and ascertain its present physical condition, and that, that portion of the system that is inadequate to perform the requirements imposed upon it, then that portion should immediately be put in proper condition by the Wilmington Sewerage Company, at its own expense; and when that is done the actual value of the plant should be determined upon, between the city and the Sewerage Company, and if they fail to agree, that it should be left to arbitration, and the decision of the arbitrators should be binding upon both parties, as to the value of the plant.

"Third. Provided further, that the Sewerage Company would then install a proper system of sewerage as desired by the city of Wilmington, and approved by the North Carolina State Board of Health, the installation of the same to be under the supervision and direction of an engineer to be selected by the city of Wilmington, and his estimate of the actual cost of the construction shall be binding upon both parties, as far as the new work is concerned.

"Fourth. When these values have thus been arrived at, then the Sewerage Co., shall execute a conveyance to the city of Wilmington, including its franchise, and the city will then execute a mortgage upon said system, with interest upon the whole amount at the rate of 4 1-2 per cent. per annum, said interest to be paid semi-annually. No payment upon the principal sum to be made, except at the city's option, until after the expiration of five years, and after that time, the city is to pay the sum of $10,000 a year, with the option of increasing this amount at its discretion, with interest until the whole date is paid off and discharged in full."

The Council ordered payment of a bill of $12.95 by Col. John VanB. Metts, who had charge of arrangements, for lumber used in the quarters provided for the old soldiers during their stay in the city. It is said that this is all the expense the city government had on account of the reunion.

Councilman B. C. Moore, in charge of the Department of Public Safety, offered a resolution appropriating $4,000 for the support and maintenance of the corps of sanitary police in the health department, and also giving authority to increase the number of inspectors to ten in case it is deemed necessary. The resolution provoked considerable discussion, during which reference was made to the fact that only a few days ago provision had to be made to meet a deficit in the health department and at the time $3,000 was transferred to the department in the hope that this amount would be sufficient for the remainder of the year. The resolution was finally withdrawn, it being clearly shown that the city did not have sufficient funds on hand to grant the appropriation. The matter was adjusted by the adoption of the following resolution:

"Be it ordered by the Council that so much of the budget as restricts the employment of inspectors to three be repealed and the Department of Public Safety be authorized to employ six inspectors and a chief on an annual basis."

A request was made that the salary of Mr. E. Piner, who is chief health officer, be increased to $74 per month, and that of the privates to $65 a month. After some discussion it was was decided to give Mr. Piner $70 a month and Mr. Matthers, who will have some special work, $65 a month, the other sanitary police to receive the same they now get, $55 a month. Mayor Smith and Councilmen B. C. Moore and Perdew voted for the increase, while Councilmen P. Q. Moore and Tiencken voted against it. The votes aganst were on the ground that it would establish just ground for all the men in the police and fire departments asking for increases in salaries, and that the city is not financially in position to stand the extra drain over the amount already provided in the budget. The meeting then adjourned.

YOUNG MAN BADLY INJURED

Employe of Government Craft General H. G. Wright Caught Under Tree—Brought to Marine Hospital in this City.

Mr. W. T. Brown, 23 or 24 years of age, a native of Brunswick county, residing near Southport, and an employe on the United States stump puller General H. G. Wright, at work removing obstructions to navigation in the riven, about 18 miles below Wilmington, was seriously injured Wednesday afternoon while about his duties as the result of a tree having fallen on him.

He was brought to this city on a government boat and taken to the Marine Hospital, where he is being given necessary surgical attention by Dr. John C. Wesell, acting assistant surgeon in charge. From what can be learned of the accident Mr. Brown had just fastened a hawser to a tree on the banks of the river, the other end of which had been attached to a stump in the river for removal When the power of the boat was applied to the hawser, the tree was pulled down and it fell on the young employe, he suffered a severe cut on the head, a broken collar bone, broken shoulder blade, rib broken, while he has a number of other oruises. While the injuries are not necessarily fatal, they are very severe and the young man is not yet considered out of danger.

THE RECORDER'S COURT

Mr. McNeill Guilty and Takes an Appeal to Superior Court.

In the Recorder's court yesterday Mr. Angus McNeill was found guilty of obtaining board from the Seashore Hotel on Wrightsville Beach by giving the hotel a worthless check and Recorder Furlong announced he would suspend judgment on payment of the costs provided Mr. McNeill settle the account of $300.90 cents with the hotel. Through his attorney, Hon. Jno D. Bellamy, Mr McNeill, took an appeal to the Superior Court. His bond was fixed at $300, Wm. M. Bellamy, Esq., becoming the surety.

It will be remembered that Mr. McNeill was tried before Justice Harriss some time ago, and probable cause being found the case was sent up to the Recorder It was alleged that he first gave the hotel a check on the bank of Darien, Ga., for something over $270. When the order was sent to Darien, Manager Hinton, of the Seashore, received word that Mr. McNeill had no account there. Mr. Hinton seized Mrs. McNeill's baggage as she was preparing to depart from the hotel. Mr. McNeill is then alleged to have told the hotel people that if they would release the baggage he would give them a check that was good for the amount of the first check plus the debt incurred during the time elapsing from the giving of the first check to that day The hotel consented to this arrangement and Mr. McNeill gave them a Wilmington Handle Company's check, he being president of that concern. The order was on the Southern National Bank, and was dated several days ahead. When presented there had been a change in the officers of the company and as the check was not signed by the secretary then serving the organization the bank could not honor it. Some days later Hinton took out the warrant for Mr. McNeill and his arrest followed.

Becky Kelly and "Preacher" Swindell, both colored, were indicted on the charge of disorderly conduct but in court the charge was changed to common nuisances. Both were given three months, "Preacher" going to the county roads and Becky to the county farm.

James Johnson, colored, who was arrested several days ago by Constable Savange for carrying a concealed weapon, towit a pistol, proved a good character in court and was let off upon the payment of $10 and costs.

Willie Moore, colored, paid the costs for an assault. The case against E. D. Quince, colored, for driving a dray without the license tag prescribed by law, was nol prossed with leave. Robt. Martin, colored, was fined $1 and costs for cruelty to animals. The case against Valentine Howe, colored, charged with asault with a deadly weapon on Walter Guion, colored, was continued until Saturday.

ENGLAND'S LABOR WAR

Railway Employes Called Out—Peace Hangs in Balance.

London, Aug. 17.—The strenuous, almost desperate efforts the Liberal government has made to prevent the greatest conflict between capital and labor that England ever has witnessed are trembling in the balance tonight. Representatives of the four organizations comprising the Amalagamated Society of Railway Servants issued a strike order tonight calling out the 100,000 members of their allied unions. The men were asked to strike "immediately."

Though the membership of the unions is less than one-sixth of the entire force of the railway workmen, it includes the highest skilled laborers employed by the companies, and if they all keep in line they will be able to cripple the traffic of the entire United Kingdom.

The vital question in the situation now is how large a proportion of the men will respond to the strike order. No one can answer the question or even attempt to summarize the situation tonight.

At mid-night neither the Board of Trade, the railway managers nor the union leaders has any definite information of how far the men were responding to the strike order. Telegrams were poring in that thousands of men had struck here and five hundred at another place, but the messages were based largely on guess work. As far as London is concerned the strike has not visibly affected traffic as yet. All trains are moving as usual and the only disturbance reported was a small row between union and non-union men at the St. Pancras station.

Late tonight the executive committee of the strikers issued a statement saying:

"Results from the provinces point to an early decisive victory."

The leaders, however, could not give details supporting this assertion.

The government had been successful in its attempt to stave off the strike which had been set to begin at 8 o'clock this morning and tonight David Lloyd George, the chancellor of the exechequer, stepped into the breach of the House of Commons, after the day's conference at the board of three had resulted in failure, in an endeavor to further to delay the walk out of the men and to bring about an amicable settlement of the controversy.

The chancellor argued that today's negotiations and Premier Asquith's offer to form a royal commission to effect a settlement the strike had resulted in misunderstanding on the part of the men which yet might be put straight. But the spoksman of the railway employes refused to accept Mr. Lloyd George's view of the situation and insisted on calling the strike, even though the negotiations had not been definitely broken off.

Premier Aquitn's proposition was to form a royal commission of three members, one from the railway companies, one from the strikers and the third the chairman, a man well-known for his impartiality. The railway companies' representatives accepted the proposition but the employes rejected it.

David Lloyd George, announced in the House of Commons, after the conference that the men thought the proposals of a royal commission was the usual scheme to effect delay and that he believed that was the reason they would not accept it.

The dramatic feature of the affair is that England's army is on the move. Its activities might be described as nearer a mobilization than at any time for some years. The government is deploying troops to meet the emergency all over the country.

At Aldershot tonight 15,000 soldiers were loaded on 22 trains. The authorities refused to make known their destinations,, but a large proporiton of them have come to London and are encamping in the parks and near the railway stations. Four thousand infantry are in Victoria Park in the east-end of London and the center of its most turbulent population. Three thousand infantry are raising tents in Regent Park, another three thousand in Hyde Park, 600 are guarding the general postoffice and another 600 are encamped at the tower of London. The only London railway station where soldiers are in evidence is Calpham Junction, the center of several suburban lines, which the Scots Guards are picketing. Elsewhere troops are being moved to strategical points all over the country.

The government's plans to cope with the strike seem fully arranged. The tunnels and the signal boxes are the chief points which it proposes to protect against possible violence. The home office has instructed all the provincial authorities concerning the closing of taverns and the enrollment of special constables. Arrangements have been made to open fifty depots in London for the swearing in of special constables if this should be found necessary. Late reports from the provinces say there has been a wide cessation of work, especially on the part of men handling freight traffic. The passenger service, however, is maintained with fair regularity, it is stated. There are also reports from many places of minor disturbances such as small riots and the turning over of the signal boxes.

The strike committee which the labor members of Parliament have resolved to support to the finish, in session tonight, issued a manifesto reviewing its position since the 1907 agreement with the railway companies was entered into and how the companies have avoided the obligations they assumed by it. It says the companies adopted a policy of delay in consideration of their grievances and have harrassed the men until they are worse than slaves. It is declared that the companies now arrogantly refuse to meet the representatives of the men. "As the men throughout the Kingom have shown the unchangeable determination not to tolerate this state of affairs any longer" the manifesto says in conclusion: "W call upon our railway men to strike a united blow for deliverance from petty tyranny and also to help obtain higher wages, shorter hours and a more humane life for all."

Washington, Aug. 17. — Samuel Gompers, president of the American Federation of Labor, sees in the present labor crisis in England a Revolutionary movement, which will result in righting labor conditions in that country, which in his opinion, have been unbearable for the past 15 years. Not only will its results be felt in the United States, Mr. Gompers says, but it will be felt in almost every country where labor has organized.

"The strike," he declared today, "is but a vigorous manifestation of the spirit of the English laboring people against such conditions that have held them under the yoke for such a long period, and the indignation of the people will result in a complete victory for English organized labor. The time had to come when they might rise against those conditions and take the matter into their own hands."

HAYMOUNT CHURCH.

Lot Tendered by Mr. H. Lutterloh Accepted by Congregation.

(Fayetteville Observer, 17th.)

At a meeting of the congregation of Haymount Presbyterian church, held in Bulleville Academy, Haymount, Wednesday night, the building lot so generously tendered them by Mr. H. Lutterloh was unanimously accepted with a vote of thanks, and the building committee was instructed to proceed at once to raise funds for the erection of a church building thereon. The building committee is composed of C. C. McAllister, chairman; J. M. Devane and J. C. McDiarmid.

The lot given to the congregation by Mr. Lutterloh is on Hay street, Haymount, opposite the western boundary of the old Myrover lot. It is an excellent location for a church building, convenient to all church-goers on Haymount and affords ample room for the erection of a commodious church building.

The good people of Haymount Presbyterian church are to be congratulated on having such a generous and thoughtful friend as Mr. Lutterloh.

LIVERPOOL QUIET.

After Strife and Turmoil of Strike—All Taverns Closed.

Liverpool, Aug. 17.—Liverpool was comparatively quiet today following several days and nights of turmoil and rioting growing out of the strike of transport workers and allied Unionists. Troops, however, continued to guard all public buildings and patrol the streets. That there was no serious disturbances tonight probably was due to the fact that the electric light company, by careful management, succeeded in keeping the city lighted by smuggling men into the power station to replace the regular men who quit today in sympathy with the strikers.

All taverns were closed at 8 P. M., and in accordance with the orders of city magistrates must shut down hereafter at 2 P. M., until further notice. It was also decided to suppress the sale of beers and drinking in bottle forms so as to minimize the use of bottles by rioters as missiles.

As a further precaution the press was requested to avoid sensational headlines which would be likely to incite disorder. It was also deemed advisable to ask the government to afford adequate military and naval protection to prevent intimidation of men who are willing to work.

The ship owners' committee today issued a manifesto of a conciliatory character appealing to the strikers to resume work and enable the withdrawal of the lockout notice against the shipping employed here. The manifesto expressed a willingness on part of ship owners to submit the grievances of the men to a joint committee. The strike committee after considering this manifesto, however, replied that things must take their course. Thus the door was closed to negotiations looking to a settlement of the strife.

The cruiser Antrim late tonight landed a party of marines who were sent to the Herculean docks, and the electric power station.

In the Paddington district the police had to disperse a crowd of roughs looting a bread shop and other stores.

Final Race Saturday.

Much interest centers around the final race of the Carolina Yacht Club for the Jones-Walters trophy, which will be sailed Saturday afternoon over the club course in Banks Channel. At least three boats stand a fair chance of winning the first prize and the rivalry for the handsome trophy is very keen. The boat making the second best total score for the series will be given the silver pitcher offered by the yacht club.

..Theatrical..

A great, in fact, a wonderful Kalem film, "The Wasp", is on at the Bijou today. Such a make of film and this particular photoplay, which has been heralded for months (while in preparation) as the most stirring and heart throbbing ever manufactured, would be enough by itself for a fine performance, but, of course, it will not be the lone attraction by any means. It will simply be the star of a big and extra fine bill which will be presented at the Bijou according to the Bijou's usual clever way. Today's bill is a corker in every way. It is strong alike in comedy and drama, and is made melodiously merry by a new programme of bright musical numbers.

The fun pictures for today are big features, but, as already noted, the great star will be the Kalem masterpiece, "The Wasp." The story told is of a butterfly wife, who becomes infatuated with an artist, but the tale ends happily and teaches a big moral. The photoplay is stirring, but is thoroughly wholesome, there being nothing suggestive about it. In fact, the Bijou's boast is the cleanness of its shows.

COTTON STILL LESS ACTIVE

Market Closed With Net Loss of 12 Points on August—Late Advices From London Less Favorable —Features

New York, August 17.—The cotton market was still less active today and after an early decline attributed to better weather reports, recovered most of the loss on covering with the close steady at a net loss of 12 points on August, but only 2 to 3 points net lower on later months.

The market opened steady at a decline of 2@3 points, and sold off to a net loss of from 10 to 11 points during the early trading, owing to lower later cables from Liverpool and reports of beneficial rains in Texas. Recent sellers showed a disposition to take profits around 11.15 for October and 11.21 for December, however, and while the leading bulls were not aggressive buyers the market seemed to meet some support around this level, as a result of which prices rallied to within a point or two of last night's closing figures. Much of the buying was attributed to a desire on the part of recent sellers to take profits in advance of a private condition report to be issued before the opening tomorrow morning, and which it was apprehended might show considerable deterioration while there may also have been some buying on Liverpool advices, indicating prospects for an early settlement of the labor roubleat Moreover, the western belt forecast, while calling for unsettled and showery weather, held out no definite prospects of general rain, and the day's detailed reports for Texas did not show as much precipitation as suggested by private reports. Late advices from London being less favorable as to the labor situation abroad, probably held rallies in check, during the afternoon, while it was also anticipated that tomorrow's detailed weather reports would show more Texas rains. There seemed to be little disposition to doubt the rain reports from the Southwest, but Southern selling was a little less active here today and local offerings appeared to be restricted, pending further official weather reports and the publication of private condition figures tomorrow morning.

Receipts today, 4,115, against 2,657 last week, and 2,315 last year. Today's receipts at New Orleans, 225 against three last year and at Houston, 7,385 against 3,328 last year.

Spot closed quiet, 20 points lower; middling uplands, 12.40; do. gulf, 12.45; no sales.

STOCKS SHOW IMPROVEMENT

The Most Encouraging Feature Was Strength of Union Pacific—General Level Lower Than Preceding Day.

New York, Aug. 17.—Some slight disposition towards improvement was shown by the stock market today. There was little decurrent liquidation except at the opening, when a drive of the shorts who were more or less active throughout the session served to depress prices of many issues to a new low level. From this the list soon reversed itself relatively steady until shortly before the close, when another selling movement obliterated a majority of the gains the general level being lower than the preceding day.

The most encouraging feature was the buying and resultant strength of Union Pacific, which, after selling down to yesterday's low level suddenly rebounded and by midday had gained over three points. If surface conditions may be accepted as a guide, buying of Union Pacific today emanated from substantial sources which by the by have vehemently denied much of the gossip and conjecture recently current and with equal emphasis denounced the selling of Union Pacific as having originated in obscure or irresponsible quarters.

United States Steel was another stock that reflected good support at advancing prices, although turning heavy when offerings became too heavy. Nevertheless the stock was taken in large amounts, as attested in the day's output of 217,009 shares, and the absorption was ascribed to interests entirely conversant with existing conditions in the Steel industry.

Taking the market as a whole, however many stocks displayed a distinct backward tendency, particularly St. Paul, Reading Lehigh Valley, and the Hill issues. This was partly due to the prevalence of a variety of rumors which embraced fear of further selling, probability of reduced dividends and the political situation. The street was plainly discouraged over the prospects of an indefinite prolongation of the Congressional session and the apparent failure of the efforts to adjust the labor situation in England. In the way of industrial news the only item of interest related to further curtailment by cotton mills in New England. The bond market was easy. Total sales, par value, amounted to $2,205,000. United States government bonds were unchanged. Total sales for the day, 840,200 shares.

Cause of the Wreck.

The cause of the wreck is attributed by railroad men at the scene of the wreck to what is known as "sun kink", brought about by the intense heat causing the rails to buckle. Wrecking trains of the Atlantic Coast Line were sent to the scene from Wilmington and a Seaboard wrecker was sent from Hamlet, but as the track was torn up for about 300 yards, the track had not been cleared yesterday evening in time for the outbound Wilmington train to pass on time, but the line was cleared about 9:30 o'clock. The wrecking crews expected to have the track cleared by 11 o'clock last night, so that there would be no further interruption of traffic. The Pullmans are left beside the track until daybreak.

Injured Reach the City.

After the delay incident to caring for the injured at Bladenboro and taking the body of Miss Jones to Lumberton, the train did not reach Wilmington until 8 o'clock last night. In the absence of Dr. Morris M. Caldwell, surgeon for the Seaboard Air Line at Wilmington, Dr. John C. Wessell was called by the Seaboard officials to attend the injured upon reaching here and a majority of them are stopping at The Orton where Dr. Wessell met them. Others in the city and at the hotel were attended by their private physicians. Mr. F. A. Fetter, commercial agent of the Seaboard, and other Seaboard representatives here were also on the spot and with Capt. Jones did everything possible for the injured people. Capt. Jones wishes to thank the physicians and people of Lumberton and Bladenboro for their assistance in the emergency and to assure all that their efforts will be long remembered.

Conductor Hill at Home.

Pullman Conductor Joseph B. Hill, in charge of the Pullman on the train, was seen by a Star representative last night after he had been carried to his home at 102 North Fourth street, and had been attended by Dr. R. B. Slocum. Conductor Hill was in bed, and while he did not complain of any pain, he was conscious of a numb sensation in his left side and back. Dr. Slocum stated that it was impossible to determine the extent of Mr. Hill's injuries last night; that internal injuries might possibly develop later.

Mr. Hill stated that his first intimation of the accident was when the 61st mile post was reached, about a half a mile this side of Allenton. He was at the door of the chair car and was preparing to enter the day coach, when he felt the rear trucks of the chair car leave the track. He gave the signal for the emergency brake but before this could be thrown on, the sleeper at the rear of the train left the track entirely and turned over on its side. The chair car also left the track about this time and turned over. Mr. Hill was trying to get out of the door of the chair car when it went over. The door had been latched by some one and this fact probably saved the conductor's life. As the car turned over Mr. Hill was thrown heavily against some piece of furniture, though at first he did not know he was hurt. He crawled through a window of the coach and assisted the passengers to get out, then going back to the sleeper and lending aid there. A short time after he had reached the sleeper he felt a numb paralyzing sensation in his left side and back. The numbness grew to such an extent that he was unable to move around and was forced to lie down. Mr. Hill stated that both cars were pretty badly torn up. The sleeper had to be chopped up to enable the workers to get Miss Jones' body out, and both cars had been torn from the trucks. The sleeper lay about 20 or 25 feet to one side of the track and the chair car lay with one end about six or eight feet from the track and the other about 20 feet away. The track was torn up for quite a distance.

Miss Jones lay in a cramped position under the side of the upturned Pullman. Conductor Hill stated that he judged from her position that she either fell through the window or attempted to get out when she felt the shock. Her body was badly mashed, though her face was not mutilated. Her neck was broken, both legs broken and both arms. Her eyes were closed as if in sleep, and one passenger stated that he believed she was asleep when the accident happened and never awoke. He stated that she was reclining against the back of the seat with a paper over her face at the time the cars left the track, and he believed the shock threw her out of the window and under the falling car before she awoke.

Some of the Injured.

Dave Pridgen, colored, the porter on the chair car, had both ankles sprained, one knee hurt and leg badly bruised. George Brown, colored, porter on the sleeper, suffered a severely strained shoulder.

Mrs. J. H. Wearn, of Charlotte, wife of President J. H. Wearn, of the Carolina Baseball Association, was in the chair car with her little son. Neither was injured, although they were badly frightened. Mrs. Wearn was on her way to visit Mrs. H. C. Irwin, her mother, at Wrightsville Beach. Mr. J. P. Erwin, her brother, met her at the station last night and they went on to the beach.

Mr. Emil Leard and Miss Edna Leard, of Hartsville, Ga., were on the train, coming to Wilmington to visit their brother, Mr. Pruitt Leard, at 308 Grace street. Both of them escaped without injury.

Mr. L. D. Thorpe, who has just returned from Panama, where he was chief engineer on one of the railroads there, was on the train on his way to the Seashore Hotel, Wrightsville Beach, where he will spend some time. He had his kodak with him and made a number of exposures of the wrecked cars. Mr. Thorpe will very likely locate in this section. He spoke in terms of the highest praise of the two conductors and the members of the train crew, for their untiring efforts to make everybody comfortable after the accident, and other passengers expressed the same sentiment.

Dr. J. S. Norman, of Bladenboro, was one of the first physicians to reach the scene of the wreck and it was he who attended to most of the injured, making them as comfortable as possible until they could reach the city.

Aside from Miss Jones, who was killed, and Mr. Hill, the Pullman conductor, most of the others who were injured, were not seriouly incapacitated. All of them came on to the city last night and many went directly to Wrightsville Beach. Others spent the night at The Orton. The party of which Miss Jones was a member staved at The Orton last night. They had not made up their minds then as to whether or not they would go on to Wrightsville Beach, as intended, or return to their homes in Alabama. They are almost prostrated with grief over the sad affair and it will cast a deep gloom over their vacation, if they decide to go on to the beach.

Official Statement of Wreck.

The following telegram was received last night from Supt. W. A. Gore, of this Division of the Seaboard Air Line:

Hamlet, N. C., Aug. 17.—The correct cause for accident Seaboard train No. 46 near Allenton, N. C., between Hamlet and Wilmington, at 2:45 P. M. today was the buckling of the rail on account of excessive heat. The track buckled under the train after the engine, express and baggage car had passed over. Passengers in the first and second day coaches felt the track going out of line. The two rear sleepers left the rail. One fatal injury, Miss Bessie Jones, Montgomery, Ala., was found partly on outside of rear sleeper, apparently attempting to get out through a window at the time of the turn-over. Eight other passengers were slightly bruised and cut, two having a finger broken. The heat has been excessive. The first reported cause of a spread track is absolutely incorrect as the track was in perfect condition.

W. A. GORE, Supt.

Well Known in Montgomery.

Montgomery, Ala., Aug. 17.—Miss Bessie Jones, who was killed in the wreck near Lumberton, N. C., was a member of a prominent and well-to-do family here. N. D. Denson, Jr., and his sister are the children of Justice N. D. Denson, justice of the Supreme Court of Alabama, and Mr. J. M. Fitzpatrick and W. W. Jones, of Wetumpka, are descendants of the great Governor and United States Senator Fitzpatrick.

PLUMP FOLKS AND THIN FOLKS

Samose Will Make People Fat—"Money Back if It Fails, Says J. Hicks Bunting Drug Co.

The line of beauty is a curve. Women may be thin and graceful, but not thin and beautiful. There is a vast number of pale, thin, scrawny people who are all brains and nerves, but without the strength and health that accomplishes the standard weight. Good flesh and perfect health go together. A true flesh-forming food like Samose is absolutely necessary to many people.

This remarkable discovery comes in tablet form and when taken after meals mingles with the food and helps it to assimilate so that it makes rich blood and pleasing plumness. No one can use this wonderful flesh-forming food for 10 days without a noticeable gain in flesh and strength. Carefully kept statistics show that out of every hundred people who begin the use of Samose, 98 per cent. increase in weight and their health and strength are restored.

J. Hicks Bunting has so much confidence in this remarkable flesh-forming food and health restorer that he is willing and glad to allow any customer to deposit 50c. with him and take home a box of Samose with the understanding that if it does not give a marked increase in good firm flesh the money will be returned without any questions.

had left the room, but Mr. Sherman declined to interpret the rules as giving him that authority. None of the insurgent leaders would discuss the situation tonight in any of its phases. They felt that they had achieved a material victory in the adoption of the iron and steel amendment. This amendment originally drawn by Senator Cummins, was withdrawn by the Iowa senator today. It was immediately taken up in its entirely by Senator Bacon, of Georgia, a Democrat, and rushed into the cotton bill.

The regular Republicans made no attempt to conceal their delight at having put the Insurgents in a position where they were compelled to vote against cotton revision at this time. Senator Cummins rallied his insurgent colleagues to vote against his own amendment for an iron and steel tariff revision, when that amendment was offered by Senator Bacon. Senator Bristow helped to defeat his own amendment for a revision of the sugar schedule when it was offered in his absence by Senator Jones, of Washington.

The Insurgents saw that they had been dropped out of the Democratic arrangement. Progressive Republican Leader LaFollette declared it was impossible for the Insurgents to vote for the Remocratic bill; while the Democrats had agreed that if their bill was defeated they would be willing to support the LaFollette measure. As the progress of votes showed that the Democrats had been given a clear majority by the absence of the regualr Republicans, the Insurgents set out in an effort to get a vote on the LaFollette compromise bill, which it had been expected would be adopted in place of the House bill.

Senator LaFollette finally offered his bill as a substitute for the House bill and the amendments that had been added to it.

The LaFollette substitute secured no votes, however, but those of Insurgents.

Then came the final vote on the House cotton bill. Only the Democrats voted for it, but as the roll call progressed it became apparent th Republicans were sitting in the chamber and not voting, or were stepping bank into the cloak rooms before their names were called.

As the first call was concluded those who had kept track of the vote realized that the Democratic cotton bill had received a favorable vote o 29 to 19. Senator Cummins was on his feet at once, before an announcement could be made. He demanded that the rule of the Senate compelling members to vote or to give their reasons for not voting be enforced.

"This rule is plain," said Vice-President Sherman. "If it is invoked, it is the duty of the chair to enforce it. The clerk will call the names of those who did not answer."

There was a sudden exodus of Republicans from the chamber. Senator Brigs, of New Jersey, had been in the chamber, but did not answer when his name was called.

"The Senator was here a moment ago," declared Senator LaFollette. "He is in the cloak room now, and I suggest a message be sent to him to return and fulfill his duties."

"The chair knows of no rule to compel that" said Vice-President Sherman

Senator Curtis, of Kansas, who announced that he was paired with an absent Senator, could not vote, was forced to submit his case to the Senate on a roll call, before he was permitted to observe the pair. When on roll call the clerk reached the name of Senator Guggenheim, there was no response. Senator Bristow declared the Senator from Colorad had just left the chamber. The vice-president held that the Senator was "not visible to the chair."

Senator LaFollette, who had brought about the vote on motion to excuse Mr. Oliver, demanded a yea and nay vote on a similar motion to excus Mr. Oliver, demanding a yea and nay vote on a similar motion to excuse Senator Penrose. In making the demand, Senator LaFollette neglected to arise and address the chair. Senator Oliver quickly invoked the rule which requires members to arise when addressing the presiding officer. Senator LaFollette failing to observe this formality, was declared out of order.

Following the various fights there came a second roll call on the passage of the bill as amended. This time there was a straight Democratic majority of 29 to 24.

The amendments as adopted were:

By Mr. Bacon—To revise the iron and steel schedule, adopted, 28 to 25; Clapp, Minnesota, and Works, California, Republican Insurgents, and Jones of Washington, who has at times voted with the insurgents, all voting with the Democrats.

By Mr. Simmons, North Carolina—Reducing the tariff on cotton machinery, 30 to 22; Progressive Republicans voting solidly with the Democrats.

By Mr. Overman, North Carolina—Revising chemical schedule, adopted, 27 to 22; Progressive Republicans voting against it.

By Mr. Watson, West Virginia—For reciprocal admission of bituminous coal across the Canadian line; adopted without division.

TOM PENCE TO GO ABROAD.

Well Known Washington Correspondent Will Tour Europe.

Washington, Aug. 17.—Thomas J. Pence, Washington correspondent for several newspapers, including the Louisville Times and the Nashville Banner, left Washington today for Nw York, where Saturday he will sail for Europe. Mr. Pence's only regret, he said, just before leaving, was that both "Billy" Green and Emmitt Levy, of Raleigh had failed to keep their promise to accompany him. He said that he has already waited two years to take the proposed trip with these two prominent North Carolinians, and that he has decided to go alone. It is true Representative Bartholdt, of Missouri, who is going to Berlin on a special mission, has promised to chaperon him, but the Missourian does not know the needs of a newspaper correspondent as well as "Billy" Green.

information as to the effect of the proposed tariff changes under each schedule before they are adopted and further to show that if delay in the passage of the bill to amend Schedule K can be had until December, Congress will then be in possession of a full and satisfactory report upon the whole schedule.

This brings me to the consideration of the terms of the bill presented for my approval. Schedule K is the most complicated schedule in the tariff. It classifies raw wool with different rates for different classes; it affords the manufacturer what is called a compensatory duty to make up for the increased price of the raw material he had to use, due to the rate on raw wool and for the shrinkage that takes place in scouring the wool for manufacture; and it gives him addition, an ad valorem duty to protect him against foreign competition with cheap labor. The usages which prevail in scouring a complication of technical detail that prevents any one, not especially informed concerning wool growing and manufacture, from understanding the schedule and the effect of changes in the various rates and percentages.

Theer is a widespread belief that many rates in the present schedule are too high and are in excess of any needed protection for the wool grower or manufacturer. I share this belief and have so stated in several public addresses. But I have not sufficient data upon which I can judge how Schedule K ought to be amended or how its rates ought to be reduced, in order that the new bill shall furnish the proper measure of protection and no more. Nor have I sources of information which satisfy me that the bill presented to me for signature will accomplish this result. It was introduced and pased in the House as praovidingm.

providing a tariff for revenue only and with the avowed purpose of departing from a protective tariff policy."

The measure will be accepted as an indication that no tariff bill prepared in advance of a report of the tariff board upon schedules affected, will be signed by the president.

Have You Thought About Burglars?

The daily newspaper reports of robberies and sudden large losses of funds by fire should point a finger of warning to the man or woman who hides away funds in the home. Too often the secret leaks out and is followed by serious loss and often murder, for a burglar will not hesitate. Discreet people patronize banks. Deposit your funds with this bank, all of which is payable upon demand, and compound interest will be added from the next interest quarter September 1st.
